GOD'S GIFT OF GASH

Let me respond to reader R. M. of San Diego, whose letter was published in December's Feedback. I would love to see a black female as a HUSTLER centerfold. I would love to see beautiful black women, of all shades, in HUSTLER spreads. However, I manage to find an adequate supply elsewhere. I buy HUSTLER because it's fucking hot! It's quite pleasurable, and I've never had a complaint. Anyway, apart from that asshole R. M., your December issue was absolutely perfect. "Priscilla: 38 in the Shade" is unbelievable. I could spend an hour sucking her feet. Beautiful. Flawless legs and a butt-hole I could bore my tongue up into and let hibernate there for the winter. The Lord put that girl here for dick—I wish it was mine. Finally, let me, as a longtime reader, send a special thank-you to Beaver Hunt's Lisa; 18-year-old Sharon, a "just legal" work of art between her legs; and Candi, who makes my dick sit straight up.

—C. D.

Brooklyn, New York

Tell R. M. from San Diego (December 1988 Feedback) to keep his racist opinions to himself. I am a black HUSTLER reader who wants to see black women in your magazine. Yeah, I like looking at white women, just like any healthy white man enjoys looking at black women. Sex is sex, you bigoted shithead! I think Samantha Strong would look great in a HUSTLER layout along with a black man so that R. M. can jack off his little pink dick and feel inadequate. I would also like to say that I really enjoyed viewing the white females in December's Beaver Hunt—Donna, Angel, Candi and Sharon. Shit! These girls made me wish I had a tongue on the tip of my dick so that I could eat them and fuck them at the same time.

—D. E.

Bayonne, New Jersey

HE'S IN BEAVERTOWN, USA

Well, it's happened! Finally! After reading HUSTLER for 15 years, I struck pay dirt. With every issue I head straight for the Beaver Hunt section first, stroking and slowly turning the pages, drooling and dreaming. But December 1988's Beavers won the lottery. Without mentioning names, I suddenly found myself staring into the pussy of a young girl I know. Watching her grow up I'd fantasized about her often. But I never dreamed an old guy like me would ever get a glimpse of that stunning slit and tongue-teasing asshole. Tomorrow morning—if I can walk—I'll be buying several extra copies.

—R. W.

THOUGHTS OF CONNIE LINGER

I've never written to a magazine before, but after seeing November's HUSTLER, featuring "Connie: Treasure Cunt," I had to. Also, your Beaver Hunt in that issue was great. I enjoyed Vickie the most, especially with that big black bush between her legs. Last but not least, back in the '70s I think HUSTLER published a special issue totally devoted to page after page of Beaver Hunt beauties. I would like to know if you are planning another such magazine in the future?

—R. I.

Houston, Texas

Look forward to a BEST OF BEAVER HUNT Volume 9 in 1989.

THE JOKE'S ON YOU

As concerns your November issue's Bits & Pieces item on Jane Fonda, it's just great that this Jane Fonda is finally apologizing for something. There is definitely one more thing she should apologize for, to the whole United States. That is, while more than 500,000 Americans were trying to save freedom and democracy in South Vietnam, this traitor was being friendly to our enemies, the North Vietnamese! Come on, Jane, redeem yourself to your country, publicly.

—E. S.

Bend, Oregon

Fonda did apologize for her Viet visit—that's the joke!

TWO SLANTS ON ONE STORY

I'm writing in response to HUSTLER's "Guide to the Korean Sex Scene" featured in the October '88 issue. We are combat engineers stationed at Camp Castle, Second Engineer Battalion. We are north of Tong Duchon and an hour and a half north of Seoul. When we get a weekend off, we usually head down to Itaewon to drink, party and fuck—typical habits of combat engineers. First of all, as concerns the article, Korean women have no tits or ass. They are not Asian amazons, unless you are a three-foot-tall nearsighted Pygmy. Also, they don't fuck enthusiastically; they constantly ask, "You come yet?" The story's author must have dreamed about his fantasy lady, Jamie; so by all means, don't believe a word that lying fuck Jan Kunda has to say. Korean women are money-hungry hosebags!

Priscilla: 38 in the Shade

—Alpha Company
Second Engineer Battalion

Jan Kunda's "Olympic-Goer's Guide to the Korean Sex Scene" (October '88) deserves a gold medal. His description of Korean women as "the horniest, lustiest, most fuckable females on earth" is absolutely true. I will cherish this article and use it as my reference guide when I visit the Land of the Morning Calm.

—J. D. G.
San Francisco, California

Hey, GIs! As the author recommended, some of the hottest Korean women aren't Itaewon's working girls—unless soldiers only know how to have sex if they pay for it.

HOMEMADE SMUT HARASSMENT

Appreciators of HUSTLER's November 1988 "Amateur Adult Video: An X-Rated Goldmine" may wonder why their orders are taking so long to be processed. One do-it-yourself-smut company featured prominently in the story, Den Video of Dayton, Ohio, received "boxes and boxes" of inquiries, "at least 1,000," from HUSTLER readers eager to obtain amateur sex tapes. Unfortunately, along with this newfound consumer attention came a raid by federal postal inspectors, claiming jurisdiction even over items sent by private carriers. The Feds spent five hours going through Den's materials, and although he was not arrested or charged, some of his material was seized by the Feds, who had already engaged in phone-tapping and surreptitious ordering of Den's materials. Den has left the business, one more pioneer for sexual freedom and expression effectively stymied by hard-core KGB tactics, American-style.

HONEYS UBER ALLES

I'm a 20-year-old West German, and I like your magazine very much, but it's not easy to get the American edition of HUSTLER here in Germany. The price is 23 deutsche marks, which is about $12! It really pisses me off. Dana Lynn, in the August '88 issue, is one of the sexiest girls you have ever shown. Such a horny pet! Your models are great, the best women in the world.

—R. H.
Hochspeyer, West Germany

ANIT-CENSOR ACTION URGED

I am intimidated. How can we remain calm when bigoted right-wing anti-obscenity groups like the National Coalition Against Pornography start using TV broadcasts to raise money so that they can take the freedoms away from consenting adults? It's about time we started counterattacking. What can we do to fight anti-obscenity groups like the aforementioned?

—A. B.
Cerritos, California

DICK SETS HIM STRAIGHT

For a 21st birthday present my best friend bought a subscription to HUSTLER for me. Now I can't believe that I have been so blind and such a dumbass for so long. Your articles, editorials, comics and photos are the best, because while my eyes may confuse me from time to time, my dick never steers me wrong.

EROTIC ENTERTAINMENT

With more than a thousand hard-core movies being released each year for the home audience, viewers, increasingly confronted by seductive advertising and slick packaging, are often at a loss when it comes to selecting an X-rated tape worth watching. HUSTLER is committed to serious, no-bullshit criticism designed to accurately inform readers of XXX-cinema offerings, and to spur the adult-entertainment industry to better productions. Despite their drastic decline, there will always be adult theaters, and we'd never leave a film buff in the lurch: If a review says a production was shot on film, it's probably playing on a big screen somewhere—all you have to do is find it.

Our man Johnny goes In and Out with Rachel Ryan.

IN AND OUT WITH JOHN LESLIE

Shot on Video.

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Jerome Tanner; starring John Leslie, Taija Rae, Careena Collins, Molly O'Brian, Megan Leigh, Rachel Ryan, Bunny Bleu, Kim Alexis, Sparkle Densmore, Vanessa Hall and Marc Wallice. Videocassette by Western Visuals.

Not only is John Leslie a renowned cocksman; he's a precision marksman, aiming his dick charge with an accuracy and prurient efficacy that make him envied and emulated by porn's second-rated scattershot sperm slingers. Splats of John's spoot smearing foxy faces have so delighted the viewing public that the veteran slut-stuffer has warranted his very own compilation tape. Of course, some people don't like John Leslie. A review of this past footage, replete with scummy debasement of some of the most lubricious ladies yet to engage in sin—including two cum-topped crams of cutie/hair pie Careena Collins—will only make the insolently endowed Leslie more hated among envious, small-minded pencil-dick geeks. Those of us who can afford a connoisseur's appreciation of a job well done realize that Leslie does it just like we would, if only we could. That's our jizz jumping onto Taija Rae's heaving chest; the sperm springs from us that slops into Megan Leigh's gaping mouth, dribbles down Collins's cheek and hangs in strands from Vanessa Hall's puckered lips. Despite a few muffed shots, In and Out With John Leslie will take the serious viewer in and out of a reality where he can be the spouting prick of his dreams.

SEX SCENE

SKINFOLK UNITE

The Adult Video Association hosted a bash recently—its first since fizzling out in 1986—to pat itself on the back for surviving, gird up its loins for the First Amendment legal battles ahead and honor certain porn luminaries. Gone the extravaganzas of flusher years. Gone the suspense of “The envelope, please.” This year, instead of the more traditional competition, achievement awards were handed out at a modest dinner dance to such notables as director Anthony Spinelli, performers Nina Hartley and Joey Silvera, historian Jim Holliday and agent Jim South. The proceedings were so low-key that AVA prez Ron Sullivan, at the podium, actually rebuked starlets for flashing! Yes, indeed, the slimes they are a-changin’.

THE PILLOWMAN

Shot on Video.

Half Erect. Directed by John Leslie; starring Peter North, Aja, Britt Morgan, Joey Silvera, Brandi Wine, Chanel Price, F. M. Bradley, Tony Montana, Renee Morgan and Tammy Reynolds. Videocassette by VCA.

Nothing breeds pessimism like high expectations. Director John Leslie's The Pillowman is sure to slay the optimism of upbeat carnalists who enthused over Leslie's chef d'oeuvre, The Cat Woman, and anticipated more of the same succinctly focused fucks and drama. Though much of Pillowman's dialogue is only a little overblown, redundant and unnecessary, and its philosophical observations just slightly threadbare and hand-me-down, these deficiencies, rather than moving the action along, simply move the viewer's finger to the fast-forward button, searching for sex. The initial insertion, Peter North into Chanel Price, is a nightmare-come-true for anyone whose dream-date isn't a gargantuan, bleach-blond epicene wad-hog. Fortunately, the second screw hoists the dynamic duo of doxies Tammy Reynolds and Brandi Wine upon Joey Silvera's big-bang petard. As the smoke and exposition clear, Peter North blows an erotic explosion upon pert-butted Aja's leavened buns, a pop quickly followed by F. M. Bradley's blast on the same taut target. Renee Morgan, swathed in black lace, with a hat covering her face, submits to an assignation with Tony Montana, and North spews spuzz on the bush and belly of brash blonde Britt Morgan. Pillowman just takes too long to get between the sheets. —C. S.

AGAINST ALL BODS

Shot on Video.

Half Erect. Directed by Sam Schad; starring Porsche Lynn, Alicia Monet, Cara Lott, Ruby Jean Bakker, Rick Savage, Carlos Valentino, Eric Dylan and Damian Cashmere. Videocassette by Zane Entertainment Group.

Porsche Lynn and Ruby Jean Bakker Against All Bods.

The storyline, characterizations, costuming, settings and presentation of Against All Bods uniformly stink, but their combined fetor is fortunately dispelled by three sex segments so rich in erotic fecundity that the discerning viewer's snuffling nose fills only with the aroma of wafting pheromones. This prick-tickling piquance is actually a trio of segments within segments, mere glimpses of gonadal bouquets. Porsche Lynn perches her pussy on the greedy mouth of Hispanic stud Carlos Valentino, his chin jutting up her butt, a finger tickling her asshole as she plunges a pair of digits into her juicy box. Corn-rowed bus-station glamour-puss Ruby Jean Bakker squats her snatch on the gulping snout of Damian Cashmere, her big caboose wagging out toward his heaving chest. Bakker bucks her buns on Lynn's wild, wet face. Though identical (differing only in participating fuckers) and fleeting, this trio of cunt-sucking configurations, like the haunting perfume of a heady pussy-fart, lingers long enough for sniveling creeps to, against all odds, beat the meat. —Kurt Blume

BILOXI BABES

Shot on Video.

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Patti Rhodes; starring Angel Kelly, Joey Silvera, Trinity Loren, Nina Hartley, Robin Lee, Mike Horner, Frankie Leigh, Robert Bullock, Kendal Marx, Siobhan Hunter and Renee Morgan. Videocassette by Western Visuals.

Cute title, semi-clever story attempt and downright dreary drilling is the best way to classify this 4-F production. The film covers three wars—WWII, Vietnam and the war in Nicaragua—but of course the only weaponry here are pink torpedoes and liquid love rockets. Each conflict presents us with a group of characters who talk about what's going on, then proceed to fuck their hearts out in the name of America. If Uncle Sam had to depend on the quality of their fucking to pull us through, we'd all be speaking Russian now. The bonings are a bore, standard pole-in-hole stuff. Even mammoth-mammariad Trinity Loren, who's usually able to light a crotch fire at the drop of a dick, fails to excite in her cooze snooze with Kendal Marx. Black cutie Angel Kelly disappoints as well, in a lazy pussy pound with Mike Horner and a numbing nookie nosh with Nina Hartley. In fact, there's really no scene to recommend out of the six presented here, although all are competently shot and edited. The problem is simply that there's no passion, and without that, Biloxi Babes doesn't even make it out of boot camp. This Biloxi will definitely have you singing the blues.

—Sam Lowry

Biloxi Babes: Robert Bullock and Frankie Leigh prepare for a regulation screw.

OUTLAW LADIES II

Shot on Video.

Half Erect. Directed by Henri Pachard; starring Alicia Monet, John Leslie, Nina Hartley, Joey Silvera, Robert Bullock, Nikki Knights, Sharon Kane, Shanna McCullough and Tom Byron. Videocassette by VCA.

A lot can be said for dependability and consistency, much of it in defense of director Henri Pachard. Pachard's videos are always in focus, with pruriently edited screw and spew scenes involving a cast of cunts and cocks of uniformly high appeal. Unfortunately, the pool of talent steadfastly exceeding industry standards of crotch-worthiness is finite, resulting in the same faces, muffs and prongs popping up in picture after picture for Pachard. Also, Henri's own idiosyncratic predilections have come to verge on predictability, creating a pornographic anomaly known as the "regulation toilet-fuck scene." Nina Hartley slaps on a mustache, slips into a pair of men's boxer shorts and straps on a dildo in Outlaw II's toilet tumble with Tom Byron and Alicia Monet, but the hottest scene in this tribute to commonplace competence occurs when Nikki Knights mistreats Robert Bullock to four lengths of rope and a pair of her panties. Helplessly bound, with bone bulging, Bullock opens wide, his beagle eyes saying, "Ahhh, stuff my mouth full of soiled lingerie." Unfortunately, three more straight fucks and a tiny dildo tipped into Hartley's asshole are about it for Outlaw Ladies II, and it's all done by the book.

HOT SPOT

AJA

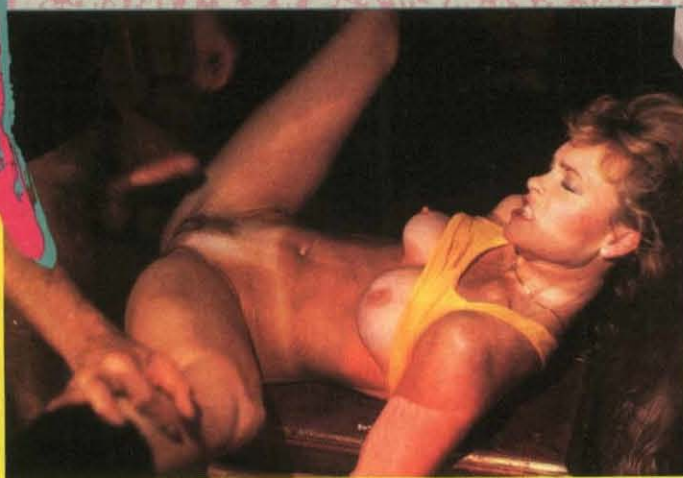

The first whispers we heard about this fresh-on-the-scene squack were of the all-too-common "new Traci Lords" variety. And though Aja has so far failed to live up to that hype, she can take some comfort in knowing that none of the other touted successors to Ms. Lord's royal jailbaitishness have succeeded. But, judged on her own merits, Aja is a vid-slit worth more than a cursory wank. She is just another pretty face, but that's something the industry can't get enough of, and her middlin' titties are of the soft, free-swinging variety. See Aja get her mons stroked and stuffed in Moonstroked; watch her seduce, suck and screw Peter North in the latest John Leslie opus, The Pillowman (reviewed in this issue); witness her sapphic skills in Nothing but Girls, Girls, Girls (ditto); and admire her ability to make war a bit less hellish in Good Morning Saigon.

Outlaw Ladies II: Alicia Monet takes a faceful of plastic from Nina Hartley in the regulation toilet-fuck scene.

V M I D O F T H E

Porsche Lynn risks chafing as she does some Very Dirty Dancing indeed.

VERY DIRTY DANCING

Shot on Video.

Fully Erect. Directed by John Stagliano; starring Valentina, John Stagliano, Porsche Lynn, Buddy Love, Delia Moore, Scott Irish, Tawnee, Stephanie Rage, Blake Palmer, John Wright and Giovanni Grizelle. Videocassette by Caballero Home Video.

The Dirty Dancing cast in a rare clothed moment.

Very Dirty Dancing is not a flawless production, but it will do until one comes along. Director John Stagliano (who also stars, writes, produces, choreographs—you name it) has a knack for pulling searing sexual performances out of his cast. That and a Peeping Tom camera, which pulls us into the action—and covers sex so thoroughly we're reminded of the Dark Bros.—make every fuck a scorcher. Even Valentina's solo clit-wank will tumesce your tool. The big surprise, however, is the orgy. The participants are so into it, it's so real, the camera might not even have been there. But you'll be glad it was as it stalks sex like a dick-in-hand voyeur, pausing here to observe some fucking, there for a blowjob and over there for a cum-shot. It's one of the best ever filmed. Porsche Lynn, after being cock-stuffed and rimmed by Stagliano, really yanks the cum out of him, climaxing one of the hottest scenes of her career. Also at personal-best level are deep-throater Delia Moore, and Buddy Love, who practically put each other into orbit. Seven sex scenes give Very Dirty a quantitative edge over the competition, but it's the quality of those encounters that will make your dick dance.

—John Cooper

PACIFIC INTRIGUE

Shot on Video.

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Giovanni Fannucci; starring Buddy Love, Elle Rio, Tantara, Nick Random, Viper, Sheri St. Clair, Breezy Lane, Randy Paul and Keisha. Videocassette by Ambassador Video.

The porn viewer of necessity has an open mind, but not so open that Pacific Intrigue can crawl right in. If Intrigue is to be taken at face value, one must believe that Nick Random and Tantara are Japanese gangsters; that Buddy Love has the charisma of a Don Johnson; that a tiny, remote island in the Pacific, known only to a few Japanese gangsters, has paved highways, telephone poles, power lines, Mercedes convertibles and heavy-traffic noises; and that the script is a riveting spellbinder worthy of more nonsex nonsense than the sceptical jackoff artist can credibly be expected to sit still for. There is sex in Pacific—two clothes-on BJ's, one shadow-fuck from behind a light screen, a quick and murky Randy Paul plow of Viper, and two Buddy Love fucks, the one with Elle Rio shown twice. Intriguing? The paucity of Pacific is pathetic.

Sexual Aids:

How to order them without embarrassment.

How to use them without disappointment.

If you've been reluctant to purchase sexual aids through the mail, the Xandria Collection would like to offer you two things that may change your mind:

1. A guarantee
2. Another guarantee

First, we guarantee your privacy. Should you decide to order our catalogue or products, your transaction will be held in the strictest confidence.

Your name will never (never) be sold or given to any other company. No unwanted, embarrassing mailings. And everything we ship to you is plainly packaged, securely wrapped, without the slightest indication of its contents on the outside.

Second, we guarantee your satisfaction. Everything offered in the Xandria Collection is the result of extensive research and real-life testing. We are so certain that the risk of disappointment has been eliminated from our products, that we can actually guarantee your satisfaction — or your money promptly, unquestioningly refunded.

What is the Xandria Collection?

It is a very, very special collection of sexual aids. It includes the finest and most effective products available from around the world. Products that can open new doors to pleasure (perhaps many you never knew existed!)

Our products range from the simple to the delightfully complex. They are designed for both the timid and the bold. For anyone who's ever wished there could be something more to their sexual pleasure.

If you're prepared to intensify your own pleasure, then by all means send for the Xandria Collection Gold Edition catalogue. It is priced at just four dollars which is applied in full to your first order.

Write today. You have absolutely nothing to lose. And an entirely new world of enjoyment to gain.

The Xandria Collection, Dept. HU0289
P.O. Box 31039, San Francisco, CA 94131

Please send me, by first class mail, my copy of the Xandria Collection Gold Edition catalogue. Enclosed is my check or money order for four dollars which will be applied towards my first purchase. (U.S. Residents only).

THE FIRST OF APRIL

Shot on Video.

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Paul Thomas; starring April West/Jenifer Miles, Lynn LeMay, Stephanie Rage, Jerry Butler and Lou Paul/Phil Campanera. Videocassette by Vivid Video.

Every mental defective knows that The First of April is April Fools', but it's hard to say who's the bigger joke butt—chumps caught watching this lame jest or the impractical jokers responsible for hatching it. Jerry Butler is an overwrought actor with the sexuality of a hyperactive Garbage Pail Kid; despite these gifts, Butler is less than triumphant as the dick in three of First's sub-grand total of four prickings. The paucity of studs (only two) is mitigated by a muscle-bound Latin (who slams a flying buttress into the leading labe) being credited as both Lou Paul and Phil Campanera. This double-nomer strata-gem, by which the unwary will assume a cast of fuckers more varied than is available, achieves its apogee in the box art's heralding of newcomer April West. The opening credits list both an April West and a Jenifer Miles, whereas the closing cast list attributes the starring woman's role only to Jenifer Miles (standard-issue female tissue whose bod is never caressed by the capricious camerawork), making no mention of any April West. The other two ginches are Lynn LeMay and Stephanie Rage. Get the spoof? There is no April West in The First of April, fool. This hilarity is foisted upon you by Paul Thomas: actor/writer/director/producer—jester!

—K. B.

SWITCH HITTERS III: SQUEEZE PLAY

Shot on Video.

Half Erect. Directed by Richard Mailer and Axe Watson; starring Samantha Strong, John St. Vincent, Steve Ross, Kathleen Gentry, Mike Horner, Renee Morgan and Peter North. Videocassette by Intropics Video.

It takes an open mind to be a porn critic, but not necessarily an open butt-hole. The appeal of a Switch Hitters production to the open-minded critic and consumer is the foretelling that, sooner or later, some guy who looks like the captain of your high-school swim team, gone somewhat to seed, will bend forward and take a turgid tube steak up his gaping turd tunnel. Squeeze Play makes good on its promise of invert insertion, but without much verve. Close-ups of condom-clad cock in male hole are lacking, and stunned slut Samantha Strong simply lies back vacant-eyed as her butt-plugged buddy groans and growls while bent over her supine form. Could not Samantha have at least licked the balls of the forlorn fudge-packed fruitcake and, while at it, also tongue-swabbed the sac of his anal aggressor? Surely the viewer, who has cast aside the prejudices and confining concepts of heterosexual eroticism, deserves a shot of Strong's lewd face giving close inspection to the conjoined sets of man plumbing, a scrotum gonging upon either of her ears. Strong afterward opens her pussy to the butt-fucked dick, but it's too little too late for someone who's just taken a shit-drilling for the privilege of porking her, and for the poor bugger who had to watch it.

—C. S.

April West—or is it Jenifer Miles?—provides a nutritious box lunch for Lou Paul, a/k/a Phil Campanera, in The First of April.

BITS and PIECES

ASSHOLE OF THE MONTH

Since the shoe fits, Imelda Marcos wears the Asshole of the Month title.

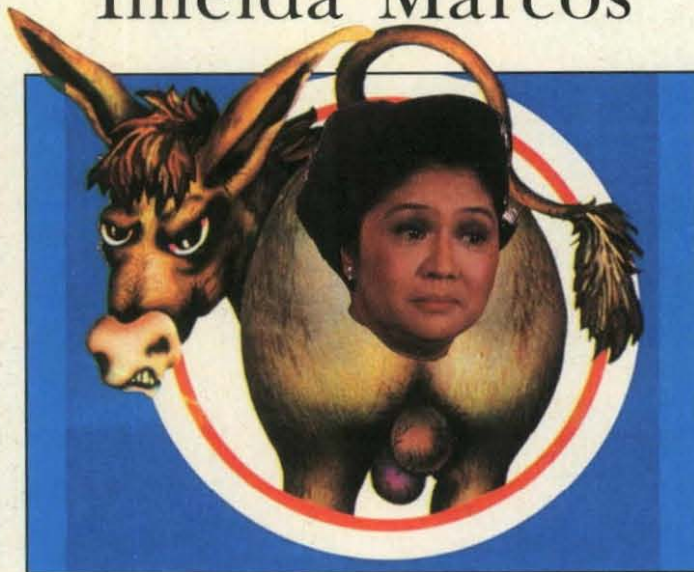

Evidence already uncovered in investigations of Imelda and husband Ferdinand Marcos's looting of Philippine wealth indicates that Imelda was obnoxiously more heavy-handed in squeezing money from anyone trying to do business in the Philippines. For example, Westinghouse Electric Corp. admits cementing a deal for the Pacific island country's first nuclear power plant with payments to a Marcos crony of $17 million—which Westinghouse claims was legal and that they were not aware the money was destined for the presidential wallet.

While millions rolled in from foreign companies during Ferdie's 20-year reign, the poverty rolls climbed from 48% to 70% in a so-called democracy where the publisher of the main newspaper was pushed out—and replaced by Imelda's brother. In 1986, obvious election tampering finally gave public support to ousting the Marcoses, accomplished by Corazon Aquino's revolution. The "Steel Butterfly" and husband have been staying in Hawaii since then, after being rejected by other countries.

At press time, Imelda was putting the bite on friends and relatives for $5 million bail money after pleading innocent to federal fraud charges involving $103 million in Philippine wealth the Marcoses used to buy Manhattan real estate and valuable art. All the Marcos assets are tied up in legal proceedings. Despite her common trick of leaking crocodile tears, the judge demanded bail before she could leave New York, where her $1,800-a-night Waldorf suite went on the tab of an unidentified friend. Bail was posted by Doris Duke, whose private jet flew Imelda to New York.

A woman Nancy Reagan could admire (the First Nancy still denies receiving a $60,000 emerald bauble from Imelda), pudgy, moon-faced former showgirl Imelda married Marcos 11 days after meeting him, swept away no doubt when Ferdie flashed his secret to virility: a vault full of greenbacks. The aging bimbo appeared typically tacky in court in an evening gown and pearls, a frock and some jewelry she cabaged from the palace before being run out by people to whom she used to throw pesos as amusement for her has-been actor and socialite hangers-on.

Quick to tout her own self-imagined beauty, Imelda also liked to point out her vital role in world affairs—single-handedly keeping communism at bay, taming Moammar Gadhafi—which she somehow managed between shopping sprees that could, in a single day, total $12 million in jewelry, or on another day $3.5 million for a painting plus ten grand for sheets. While in Manila, she explained her excesses saying that the people needed to see a star, as if their hungry bodies, sore from lack of beds, let alone sheets, could be refreshed by the sight of an overdressed dowdy matron who, during May to July 1983, unloaded $4.5 million shopping in New York.

Philippine government claims that the Marcoses milked more than $10 billion from their homeland would be unbelievable if not for incidents such as a Marcos agent trying to withdraw $213 million after the Marcoses' ouster, or the $10.3 million tab for one Marcos daughter's wedding. You'd think such a high roller would be fun in the sack, but Marcos once allegedly reported that his widely known affairs stemmed from his wife's "virginitis." Now about all the bitch has left to peddle is her pussy, which probably won't be reclaimed as a Philippine national treasure; it might raise too much of a stink.

Certainly until the Filipinos get back their nation's wealth, the stench of Imelda Marcos showing her ass will still reek from the Pacific Ocean to Washington, D. C.

Service With Soul

Surely you've wondered where the drug dealers, pimps and working girls in your neighborhood invest their hard-earned cash. At the local blood bank, of course, where they can expect reasonable interest rates and a minimum of federal investigation. Even rival gang members bank peaceably here, since, if there's one thing all men can agree upon, it's the sanctity of human cash. Right on, bros!

WASTE AWAY!

Every American is going to be expected to do their share in the government's new program for responsible disposal of hazardous materials. Soon every household will be equipped with one of these attractive and functional nuclear-waste baskets, so that each of us can pitch in and store some radioactive toxins. We'd just have to ship them to some Third World country otherwise, and why should they have all the fun?

BAITED BREASTS

There's more than one way to hook a sucker, but this is certainly one of the easiest. Perhaps this poor schmo didn't get enough nourishment as a child, but at any rate, he's fallen into the none-too-tender trap. Now it's up to our plucky fisherwoman to simply reel him in.

GLASNOST: Soviet Piece Plan

Little did you suspect that this is what they meant when talking about "the new spirit of Soviet openness." Beaver shots, strictly forbidden since the repressive days of Stalinism, are now cropping up everywhere, and average Russians are rejoicing. Here's to detente!

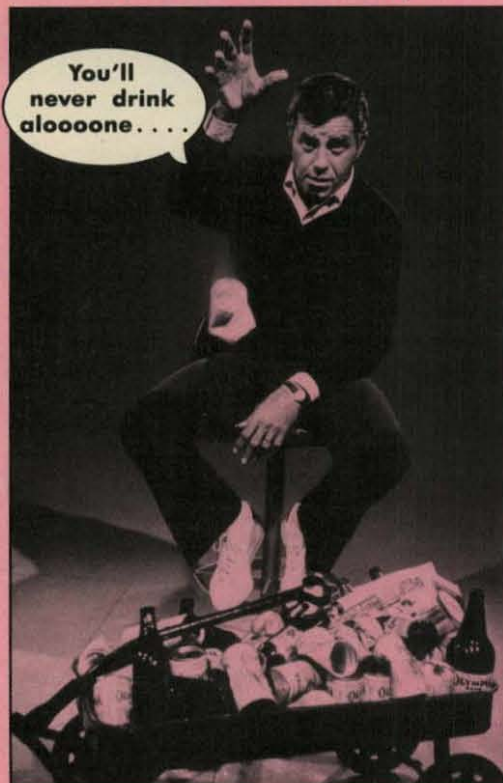

COMING CLEAN

Now piss-fetish femmes have really got something to get worked into a lather over. The golden-shower head is a fun-filled bathroom attachment that's a lot cheaper and more hygienic than hiring some stud to actually pee in your face every morning. And, if you're so inclined, you can fill the liquid dispenser with milk and pretend you're showering with your favorite porn star.

Great Moments With Jerry

You'll never drink alooone....

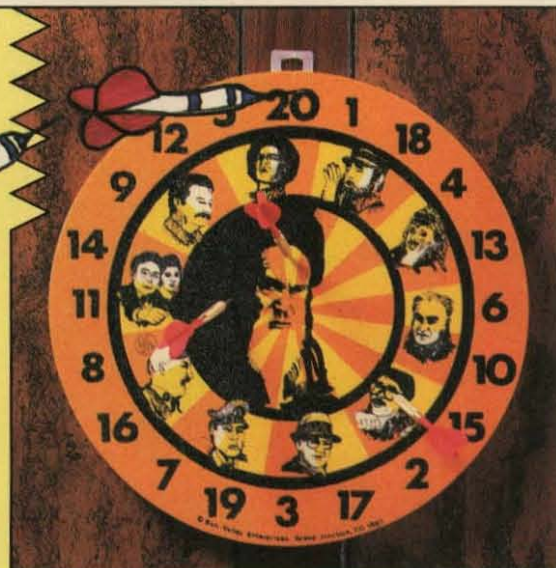

Stunned by the news that, in the wake of his last telethon, muscular dystrophy has been cured, Jerry Lewis becomes an alcoholic. The embittered Lewis, having lost the biggest source of free publicity in his ludicrous career, vows to devote his free time to the cause of recycling, and shameless product placements for Olympia beer.

Get the Point?

Our former President has slightly more idle time on his hands these days. But in case you were concerned about old Ronnie getting bored in retirement, don't worry. He's found an ideal way to amuse himself, with Dictator Darts. Believe it or not, this board is for real, and it's available for $11.95 from Sun Valley Enterprises (2665 Paradise Dr., Grand Junction, CO 81506). True, they're easy targets, but if you've gotta stick it to someone, why not the ones who really deserve it?

AIDS PARANOIA CAN BE FATAL

Although some people are unreasonably fearful of the AIDS virus, doctors know better, right? Try again. At Guy's Hospital in Britain, Dr. Gillian Shanks's colleagues knew she was deathly afraid of the virus. They believed the fear intensified when she was transferred to the heavily gay area of Brighton. According to Southwark coroner's court, the physician dealt with the transfer and the dread it caused in a simple but effective manner: She penned some goodbye letters, then killed herself.

Wall Crawler Zaps Child Sex Abuse

Marvel Comics took a successful gamble when Spiderman revealed in his comic strip that he had been abused sexually as a child. Personal appearances at the nation's shopping malls and schools followed, with costumed men frankly discussing sex abuse. The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse reports that they've received hundreds of letters from abused children addressed to the superhero, and according to NCPA executive director Anne Cohn, Spiderman will now be an instrument in combating what Cohn calls "probably the most hidden, insidious type of abuse": verbal emotional abuse from parents.

INDONESIANS TRY MALE 'PILL'

In an effort to get men more involved in the country's population control, Indonesia is testing an "anti-productivity" serum for men. The serum, after being injected into the body, works by paralyzing the sperm. The serum is now being tested in Indonesia's five major cities using 150 volunteers, according to the National Family Planning Coordination Board. Indonesia, with a population of 174 million, has managed to reduce its birthrate from 2.5% to 2.1% annually, but board chairman Haryono Suyono says the men need to participate more and the serum appears to be the way. "If the test results are positive," says Suyono, "the board will not hesitate to distribute the serum in the market and will recommend people use it." No word yet on whether the U.S. plans to test the chemical.

Tales From the Crypt Terrify Townspeople

Rumors of a satanic cult practicing human sacrifices paralyzed a West Virginia community, where dozens of parents pulled their children out of school for fear of losing them to devil worshippers. Principal Freddie Keen of Kanawha County's Wallace Heights Elementary says that on one day as many as 52 students were kept home after unfounded rumors circulated that satanists were searching for blond, blue-eyed children to kidnap and sacrifice. According to Keen, "There's no physical evidence. The rumors have been going on for weeks." Sheriffs in nearby Putnam County report receiving 50 phone calls from alarmed parents concerning tales of devilry which include animal mutilations, but the lawmen agree they have no basis in fact. "All the calls we get are checked out," said a sheriff's deputy. "We can't validate any of this garbage." Authorities believe the rumors all began in eastern Kentucky, where similar stories of child-abducting satanists were thought to have been sparked by a grave robbery in Breathitt County. The paranoia hit a fever pitch in Irvine, Kentucky, where Cincinnati photographer Janice Braverman fled from after being rumored to be a devil worshiper in search of sacrifices. Braverman, who was in the town under a grant from the Kentucky Arts Council, said she feared for her own safety. "I've never seen such hysteria over nothing," she said.

Condom Conundrum: 'How To' Too Tough

Instructions written on most condom packages are too difficult to understand for those who need them most, according to researchers at UCLA. Gary A. Richwald and other university researchers conducted a linguistic study on readability of instructions of 25 different condom brands and found that a person needs a college-level reading ability to understand how to handle, store and use rubbers. The experts worry that not only illiterate Americans, but anybody with a below-college education, may not be able to properly protect themselves during sexual encounters.

ciency. T-cells also regulate the function of B-cells, which are free-circulating immunity cells and are affected by AIDS.

- Dioxins cause PCT, a disease that produces a liver/blood disorder among drug abusers. The purple-red spots (clinically referred to as Kaposi sarcoma, a rare skin cancer) found on American and European AIDS victims are very similar to PCT and chloracne, a skin condition arising from dioxin poisoning, which have both been widespread among Vietnam veterans exposed to Agent Orange and its dioxin contaminants.

- A new form of Kaposi sarcoma is now spreading rapidly in Africa (most notably in Zambia) and only began to appear in 1983-84, roughly the same time AIDS started garnering media attention in the U.S. Where dioxins are found in high concentrations, Zaire and the Central African rain forests, for example, where most AIDS victims are neither homosexuals nor IV drug users, there is, first, a high incidence of AIDS (according to ABC's Nightline program, 50 million Africans will die of AIDS by the year 2000) and, second, prolific and criminal dumping of toxic wastes in these regulatory-free African nations.

- The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) of Atlanta, Georgia, was a primary instigator of the widespread use of DDT and other herbicides in the tropics, Central Africa (where defoliants and insecticides are utilized extensively to ward off tsetse flies in their habitats), the United States and now in South America, where these toxic chemicals are used to kill the cocaine-producing coca plant.

- Dioxin molecules fit into the basic DNA structure (the protein

The American GIs who made this combat slogan popular while fighting an unpopular war in the jungles of Southeast Asia may now be saddled with yet another cruel legacy, AIDS.

Due to their exposure to dioxin-based herbicides such as Agent Orange, Vietnam vets are potentially at risk of contracting AIDS or displaying similar catastrophic symptoms. Progressive weight loss—called wasting syndrome—liver lesions, soft-tissue cancers, psychological alterations, thymic atrophy and suppression of cellular immunity are all shared characteristics of AIDS, and the acute effects of dioxin exposure.

Consider the following:

- In the United States, HTLV antibodies are not always present in AIDS, though when dioxin is present, HTLV (the Human T-cell Leukemia Virus)—which causes immune deficiency—is also present. Furthermore, HTLV affects T-cells in the body, as does dioxin, which specifically attacks T-cells and the thymus gland, causing immune deficiency. Dioxin also regulates production of key molecules providing every human cell's hereditary qualities and characteristics). Dioxin alters DNA cells when ingested by the body and eventually causes their mutation. DOW Chemical is probably the largest producer of dioxin-containing petrochemicals in the United States. They admit that this most potent of man-made chemicals is now ubiquitous, and many scientists believe dioxin is the most toxic synthetic chemical compound ever created (only pure botulism and tetanus toxins are more deadly than dioxin). Plus, there is no single test to diagnose the degree of exposure to the chemical, which lodges in the body and is difficult to remove.

- Leukemia victims commonly die of opportunistic infections and microorganisms (like AIDS-related complex). High incidences of leukemia have been detected in chemical-plant workers exposed to dioxin's parent molecule, benzene. In addition to chemical workers, residents living near hazardous waste sites, AIDS sufferers and victims of exposure to herbicides (like Agent Orange vets) experience lymphomas at a much higher-than-normal rate. (A lymphoma is a malignant growth of the lymph nodes. These nodes or lymph glands normally act as impurity filters within the body.)

- The epidemic deaths of seals during the summer of 1988 in Western Europe and Scandinavia are also being blamed on a strain of virally induced pneumonia, which weakened the sea mammal's immune system with the AIDS-like ailment. This man-made environmental condition will probably wipe out all seals in the region by the year 2000. The North and Baltic seas—where the virus originated—are among the most polluted in the world, absorbing 15 billion gallons of waste annually. A considerable portion of that total is unchecked agricultural pesticide runoff and industrial toxin effluent, like PCBs, nonbiodegradable petrochemical dioxin by-products. These same northern European nations dump toxic waste into the open seas, and since 1969 have burned hazardous materials at sea (approximately 90,000 tons annually).

- DOW Chemical now admits that the Agent Orange family of chemicals is ubiquitous; the substance can be found in virtually every by Agent Orange would be roughly equivalent to defoliating the entire state of Massachusetts.

But the highly publicized personal tragedy of a single American serviceman may shed light on the overall deadly impact of Agent Orange for so many unseen and forgotten soldiers. Plus, it may uncover the possible connection between dioxin and AIDS.

In an ironic twist of fate, the military officer who originally ordered the use of Agent Orange, Admiral Elmo Zumwalt III—himself a victim of dioxin exposure—discloses that he's been treated for two AIDS-related cancers. His son also suffers from an AIDS-like malady.

Zumwalt recently coauthored a book, My Father, My Son, and now attributes all of these symptoms to Agent Orange. His doctors were astounded by the simultaneous occurrence of Zumwalt's non-Hodgkin lymphoma and his Hodgkin's disease because these cancers were believed to be unrelated, though Zumwalt suggests that his chemical exposure while in Southeast Asia produced the underlying immune deficiency condition.

To date, only a Swedish medical scientist, Dr. Lennart Hardell, and the Minnesota Department of Health have made the distinction between Agent Orange's principal property—dioxin—and AIDS. This information can be ascribed to a Minnesota-based Vietnam vet, Dave Bergh, who is solely responsible for spearheading the AIDS/Agent Orange connection, as well as the media effort necessary to overcome the chemical industry's truth monopoly.

In addition, Bergh points out—through his information pamphlets—that the average age of Vietnam vets is around 40, which is also the median age of 90% of adult male AIDS victims. Of AIDS "high risk" groups, servicemen who saw duty in Southeast Asia dominate two categories: IV drug users and prison inmates. Furthermore, a New York Times survey reports that at least 40% of Vietnam vets suffer from alcoholism and narcotics abuse.

And as quoted from the book GI Guinea Pigs, "Vietnam vets, taken as a group, most certainly manifest every imaginable symptom that medical and public-health specialists ascribe to chemical and, in particular, herbicidal poisoning." It's also worth mentioning that the VA presently treats roughly 7% of all diagnosed AIDS cases in America. These individuals naturally must be ex-soldiers and sailors, but generally only one-third of eligible vets seek out VA services.

This phenomenon may not apply for those ex-servicemen and women afflicted with catastrophic illnesses, like AIDS. Thus, it may be possible that more than 20% of all AIDS cases in America are occurring among Vietnam-era vets.

When the chemical industries, along with the farm, range and lumber interests, closed ranks with military professionals to perpetuate the guarded myth that herbicides pose no danger to human health, these producers and users of dioxin-laden products sought to ensure as little impact as possible on the domestic herbicide market.

So dioxin is now found in mother's milk of women living in the vicinity of herbicide-sprayed rangelands and in the beef cattle that grazed the same lands, entering the human food chain. Those who served in Vietnam thus received a double dose of dioxin.

Permanent and complete banning of these chemicals has been tied up by the chemical industry's lobbyists and lawyers. And when leading health organizations like the CDC, which pushed for DDT and other pesticides' use around the globe, deny the correlation between dioxin and AIDS, it will unfortunately take more and more Vietnam vets' deaths for the "straight" press and responsible medical organizations to investigate the connection. ☹ living cell.

Agent Orange was originally utilized to clear jungle growth and thereby reduce the hazards of ambush by the Vietcong. It also denied the NVA forces their food crops. But the Pentagon later realized the unforeseen benefit of removing the Vietnamese civilian population from the National Liberation Force-held countryside to South Vietnamese-government- and American-military-controlled urban areas.

In ten years of herbicide use, 5 million acres of ancient Vietnamese forests, timberlands and rice- and rubber-producing regions were almost permanently destroyed through the spraying of 20 million gallons of highly toxic defoliants. The size of the area decimated

Fear and hypocrisy have repressed sexual awareness, leading to the ignorance that spreads disease and creates violence, in addition to hindering our natural enjoyment of sex. This series opens the door to current sexual knowledge and expression, and improved love-making.

SEX BEHIND BARS

The lights in the women's working dorm of the county jail are out. Except for a few sleeping night workers, the five female inmates are alone, lying naked inside "the tent" (two bunk beds close together, with a mattress on the floor in between them and sheets hanging down on all four sides of the bunk for privacy). Staring at one another with lustful eyes, they rub baby oil all over each other. They take out powdered candy and sprinkle it on their tits. The women lick and suck the sugar off each other, grinding their slippery bodies over and against one another. They masturbate, and a moment later, moaning and groaning is heard from the tent as fingers slide in and out of wet cunts, and warm, desperate mouths go down between legs.

Even within our country's most secure jails and prisons, where the inmates are supervised 24 hours a day, the sexual drive asserts itself and snaps the chains of institutional regulations. Though the more than 604,000 men and women incarcerated within the United States are separated from members of the opposite sex (except for restricted contact with visitors and institutional employees), sex behind bars runs rampant.

These prisoners, prohibited from participating in heterosexual relationships, are forced to use alternative methods for sexual relief. Most inmates, both male and female, masturbate regularly; many masturbate at least once a day. This is something that is usually done in secrecy—inside locked bathrooms at work areas, in the shower, or under the covers at night. However, since privacy is sometimes impossible, jerkoff inmates are occasionally observed by others.

Some prisoners find sexual devices particularly satisfying. Manufactured sexual aids are prohibited in U.S. jails and prisons; therefore, those desiring to use them must devise their own. One common device used by male prisoners is the fee-fee bag, a sock filled with lotion, Vaseline, mayonnaise or any other lubricant. It is placed over the penis, then stroked up and down until filled with cum. "The next best thing!" says Michael, a 31-year-old convict at Folsom State Prison in California.

Sexual devices are less common with women prisoners, though they use various penis-shaped objects. One woman, while doing time in the California Department of Corrections, would shove a cucumber in and out of her cunt to get off. But incarcerated women generally prefer to play with each other.

"They're all a bunch of lesbians!" exclaims Michelle after serving over a year in the Orange County, California, jail. Bisexuality and lesbianism are part of an accepted and established routine in institutions housing female prisoners. Women kiss, hug, hold hands, shower together and walk around with hickeys all over their bodies. Female inmates seem more timid about masturbating than about making love to a jailhouse girlfriend. If a woman doing time does not fool around, she's looked down upon and considered square by those who do.

When a young, pretty female who's not well known to other prisoners ends up in jail, she's desired by many of the women there. "I'll bet if you went with me, you'd never want a man again," is typical of the comments directed at her. "All these girls keep telling me how fine I am," declares Paula, an attractive 19-year-old in jail for the first time. "But that's the last thing on my mind: turning funny." A few months later she is sexually involved with another prisoner.

Some of these relationships become serious, resulting in a lesbian wedding ceremony behind bars. These weddings, participated in by a large number of prisoners, are conducted on a store day, when the women can buy goodies for the event. The inmates fashion a wedding dress out of sheets, decorating it with lipstick or whatever is handy. Flowers are made of tissue or foil, including a bouquet for the bride.

The marriage begins with a long ceremonial walk, the inmates serenading the couple as they stroll toward wedded bliss. After an established lesbian reads their vows, the girl in the masculine role slips the wedding ring—made from cellophane off a cigarette pack or from string—onto her bride's finger, and they embrace in a passionate kiss. The wedding is then made official with a "vow sheet," jailhouse marriage certificates signed by both women.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds retire for their honeymoon—licking, sucking, rubbing and squeezing each other all over for hours.

In prison lesbian relationships, cheating is not accepted. Most female inmates frown upon a woman who bed-hops. Yet it remains a frequent occurrence. Locked-up women get extremely jealous over each other. When a woman in a steady relationship fools around and her lover finds out, it can easily result in violence, the spurned lover attacking either her unfaithful bitch or the interloper. Jailhouse romances can become extremely serious, continuing on the outside once the two women are released.

Cindy, a 21-year-old who had her first lesbian experience in juvenile hall at the age of 13, found having a girlfriend in jail very satisfying sexually. Whenever she got horny in the middle of the night, she crept over to her girlfriend's bunk, then quietly draped sheets around the bed. She'd slip inside and lift her lover's nightgown, then lower her mouth to the girl's cunt. Licking and sucking, she'd arouse her friend from sleep for some hot sex.

Lesbian orgies are not an everyday occurrence in most facilities, but they do happen when circumstances permit. Cindy was one of the women who participated in the orgy that begins this article. She reveals that she's been involved in one other—involving six women.

Like the female prisoners, some of the men also turn to other inmates for sexual release, though the men are much less open about it. Certain accepted attitudes allow the male prisoner to get off homosexually and still not be considered queer by most of his fellow inmates. It is best summed up by James, a 25-year-old convict who's spent more than eight years of his life locked up. "To be the aggressor in a homosexual act is okay," he explains. "But to be the passive partner [willing or unwilling] is looked down upon."

Some incarcerated men take one of these passive sexual partners as their punk, or kid, using him as a means of sexual gratification whenever they get the urge. Occasionally another prisoner tries to have sex with a punk who is already taken, usually resulting in an altercation between the two aggressors. Inmates even get killed over this, claims John, a 31-year-old convict serving time in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Society holds the common conception that prisoners force other prisoners to satisfy their sexual needs. Forced sexual activities among incarcerated females are almost nonexistent, the women preferring to use verbal and psychological pressure. Men are neither as passive nor as patient, sometimes forcing an unwilling victim into sexual submission.

Some prisoners find sexual satisfaction by becoming intimately involved with a guard or other staff member. It is usually a female employee who gets involved in one of these illicit affairs, whether the inmate be male or female. When one of these relationships is discovered by institutional officials, the employee involved is generally fired or suspended.

Institutional visiting rooms that allow contact visits are another source of sexual relief for prisoners. What type of sex and how frequently an inmate can get away with it depends on the institution. A woman inmate can sometimes get away with a visitor finger-banging her. If a male prisoner is clever, he can sometimes get a quick blowjob or handjob.

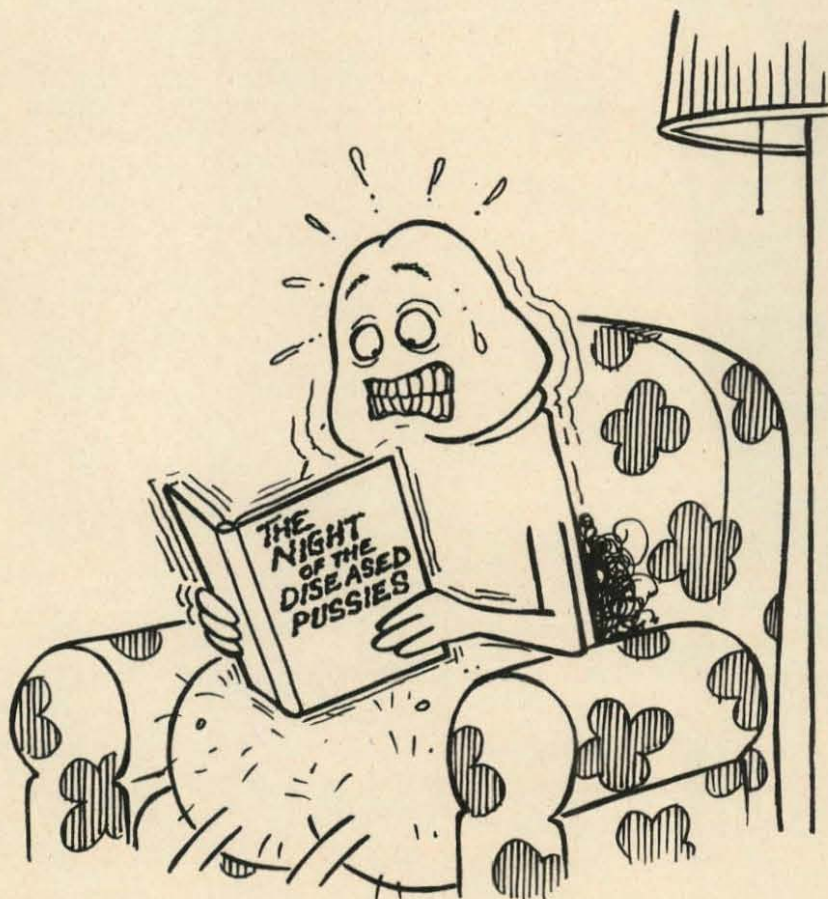

Some correction departments within the U.S. allow conjugal visits, where the prisoner can spend up to two or three days in an institutional trailer or apartment with his or her spouse. However, an inmate can wait several months between visits. This program, though a step in the right direction, doesn't allow enough visits to adequately relieve most inmates' procreative drives. In addition, only those who are married and eligible, and in prisons allowing conjugal visits, may participate.

The California Department of Corrections claims that there were only 62 sex-related violations in the California prison system in 1986. But inmates and ex-inmates of the CDC disagree, believing the number of reported incidents to actually be much higher. Most of the other state correctional agencies in the U.S., when contacted about sexual activities behind bars, either refuse to comment or deny that any of the events described above are taking place.

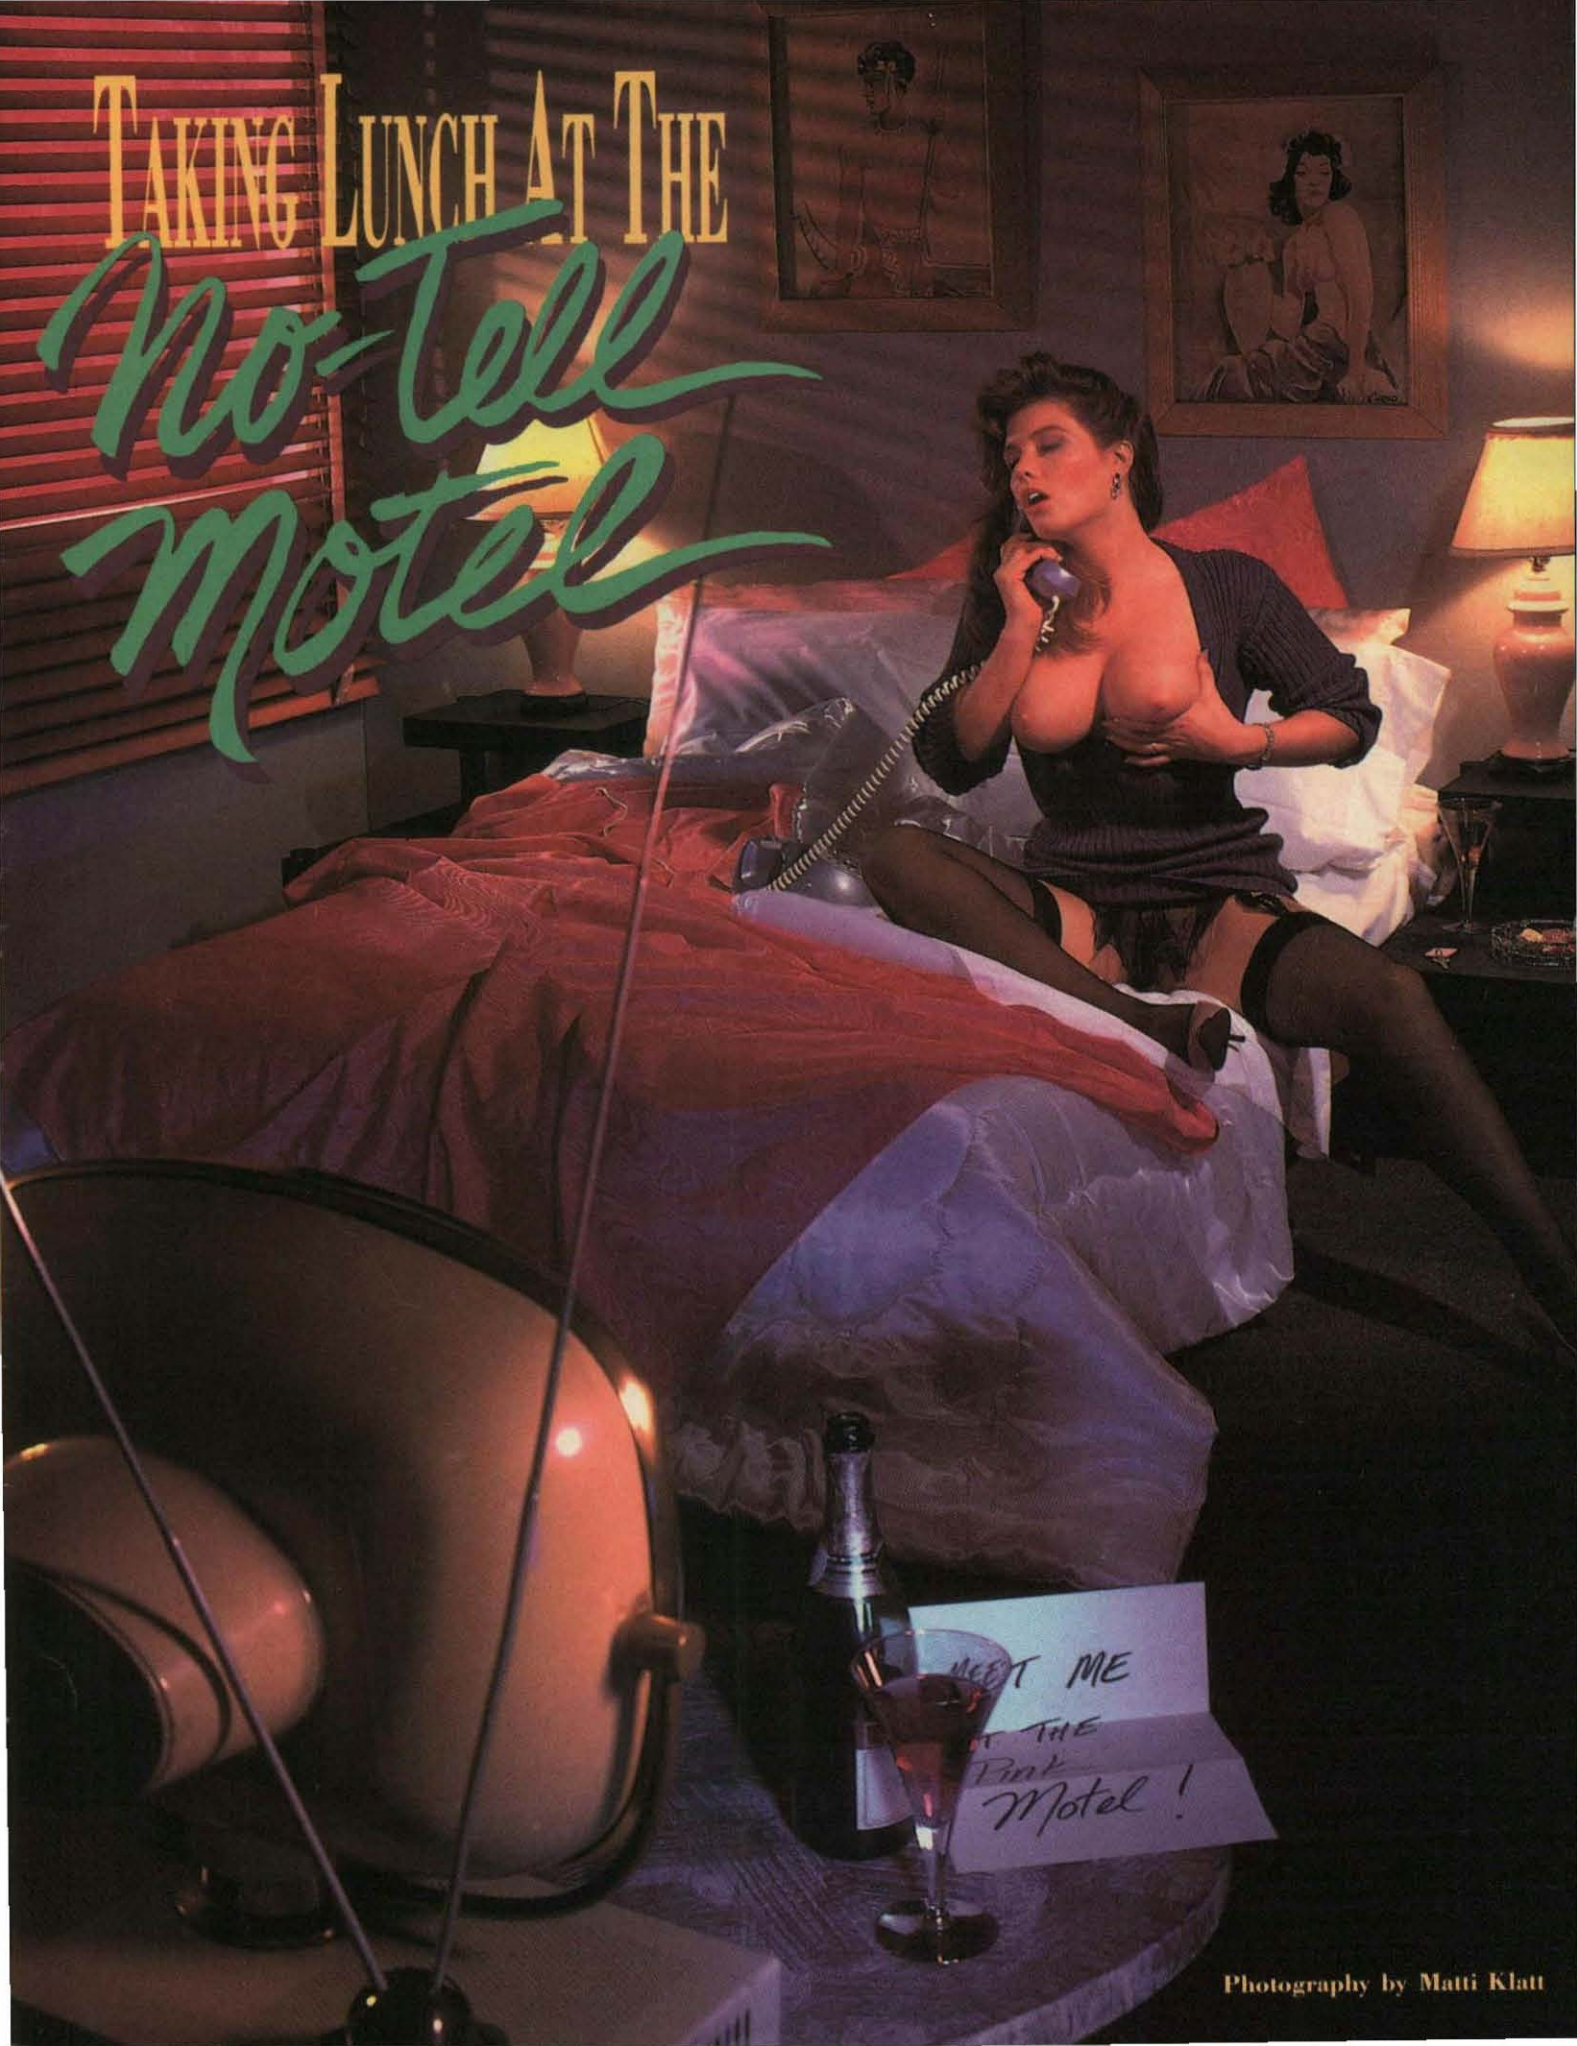

Illicit sex within U.S. jails and prisons will continue until prisoners are given some sufficient alternative. Sex is a natural part of life, and any attempt to suppress it, whether within institutions or out in society, can only result in failure. ☹

TAKING LUNCH AT THE No-Tell Motel

Photography by Matti Klatt

EVERY TIME THE HOT NEW HUNK in Finance passed Sarah's cubicle in Graphics, she shot him beavers, exposing wet spots in her panties, or unbuttoned her blouse a little to reveal the comely cleavage of her massive mams. It wasn't long before the hunk had Mailroom Marv drop off a note: "Meet Me at the Motel." Like all the staffers, Sarah knew the one, where it costs extra if you check in with baggage. She got there first, only to be met by a phone call; business had detained her office knob. Already surging with anticipation, Sarah pretended with her own fingers that he was caressing her hefty hooters and juicy sluice. She imagined handling the hunk's hose, her lips parting as she fancied his fuck-shaft tickling her tonsils. She dandled her nipples as she dreamed he would do it, but her dainty digits could not cram her clam the way a manly sex pump would. The mere thought of his veiny root triggered a series of orgasms just as the door opened. Sarah didn't know if she had it in her for another orgasm onslaught, but she decided to get it in her anyway.

WORLD'S BIGGEST Swing Party

2,000 LIBERATED
ADULTS FLAUNT THEIR FREEDOM AT
Lifestyles '88

FIRSTHAND REPORT
BY ANTHONY
"TEX" LOVETT

These are not the best of times for Americans hell-bent on exercising their personal freedoms. Reaganoids have done a jig all over our Constitutional rights. The Federal Supreme Court has upheld the view that sodomy is an illegal act. Add to this miasma of fossilization the hot new drug called "Clean and Sober," as well as the AIDS specter, and it seems somewhat surprising to learn that swinging—originally known as wife-swapping—is alive and well and, well, swinging in America.

A social anachronism in an age of fear, the "swing scene" in America is a tightly knit network of individuals from all walks of life, as represented by those who gathered for the eighth annual Lifestyles: The International Congress on Alternative Lifestyles and Human Sexuality. Call it the swingers' convention for short. They do.

•CHECK-IN AT HUMP PALACE:

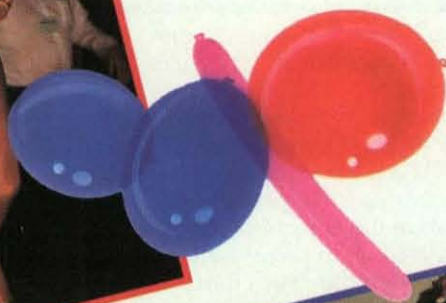

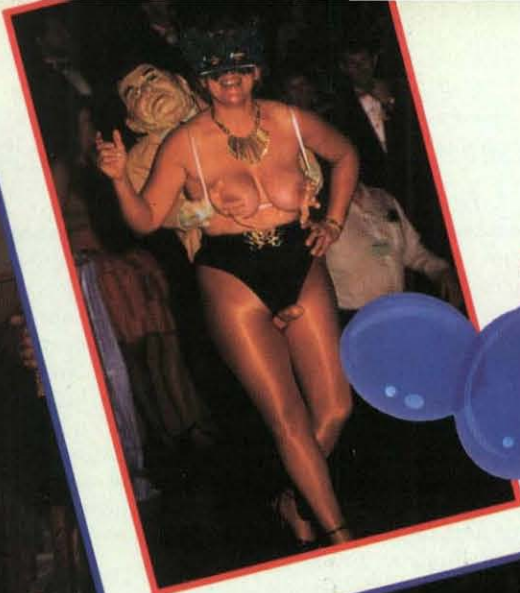

I've lost my money in at least 25 different Vegas casinos, my mind in a few others, but never made it down to the lonely stretch of black tar where the Hacienda Hotel sits unnoticed and alone at the airport end of the Strip. Leading to the Hacienda's upscale big sister, the Sahara, the Strip is scattered with some of the glitziest ziggurats in Vegas, temples of glass and light fronted by titanic marquees that boast of easy winnings and cheap prime rib. It's hard to think of a more perfect spot to hold the world's largest swingers' convention.

Unencumbered by a garish facade or outlandish fountains or even neighbors, tinted in a baby-caca brown, the Hacienda almost disappears into the desert haze by day. At night, despite a plethora of spotlights, the place is hardly more noticeable. With discretion being the better part of swapping, it seems only fitting that the low-key location stood out as the swingers' choice for their sybaritic weekend. The cab pulled into the long driveway, passing the marquee boasting Redd

Fox's name along with a plug for Minsky's Burlesque and something about the best Mexican food in town. No welcome whatsoever for 2,000-some swingers who would descend upon the place—and presumably spend Vegas amounts of money—over the weekend.

What I assumed was a puritanical faux pas on behalf of the Hacienda is just another facet of the subtle manner in which the convention is run. Likewise, no banners draped across the waterfall/lobby ballyhooed WELCOME SWINGERS; no placards urged SWINGERS THIS WAY through the casino; no marching bands or belly dancers greeted the troops.

I told the girl at the counter I was with the press section of the Lifestyles group. She gave me a knowing look, then fetched my key. "Have fun," she said with a sly smile, and dangled the thing in front of me like a carrot. There weren't any banners, but the employees knew who was coming to town.

Heading toward my room, I spotted an acquaintance who I was not at all surprised to see. He, however, was somewhat shocked when I called out his name. "Sasha Gabor!" I yelled, waving on a bleached-blond thing. He turned and squinted. After a few moments a look of recognition lit up his eyes. "What are you doing here?" he asked in his Serbo-Croatian/Scandinavian accent. "Covering the swing convention for HUSTLER. You?" "Oh, you know, I'm covering it for the European magazines... plus I like to have a little fun now and again." He winked. Then, Burt-like, a serious look came across his face. "Say, are you participating in, well, the activities this weekend?" he asked.

SWING PARTY

They seem to be the most well-adjusted, mellow and happy group of strangers I have ever spent time with.

"No," I said, looking around to make sure I didn't offend any other conventioners.

Sasha gave me a sad smile, marked with just a touch of pity, and said, "That's too bad." Then, just as Burt would have done, his face lit up as he spotted a table of swinging gals in the coffee shop. "Gotta run." He scampered off to make some new friends.

•Forgotten but Not Gone: While some think of swingers as sexual pioneers, most people don't give them much thought at all. They're like the Hell's Angels and Lava lamps—out there but invisible to the social consciousness. The term swinger itself seems out of place, reminiscent of an ill-begotten era when leisure suits, Sebring haircuts and white crinkly-leather shoes were regarded as high fashion.

The old game of wife-swapping—as semantics of the term imply—was often a male-dominated scene, one in which the husbands swapped mates, not the other way around. In its simplistic sexism, the original use of the word wife (as opposed to mate- or spouse-swapping, as it was later called) belied the true motivation behind this new desire for sexual experimentation: The husband wanted some fresh flesh. Nowadays, in its ideal practice, all parties have an equal say, but it's still most often the male in the relationship who first suggests exchanging his woman for a new one... if for only a few hours. Ironically, after initiation to the scene, it's the female who tends to fully embrace the lifestyle faster. The male sometimes wonders what he's gotten himself into—especially after seeing his wife enjoy sex with another man.

About 60% of all swingers do their thing under the auspices of an organized club. With names like Elite International, Original Circles, New Horizons, Live the Dream and Club WideWorld—the largest in the U.S.—these organizations provide geographical meeting points for local swingers and act as support groups and social clubs for their members. Most, if not all the clubs, were represented at the 1988 convention, as were most of the periodicals through which they advertise.

The media, when it bothers to pay attention to swingers, often characterizes them as amoral, one-dimensional sex freaks: bored, desperate suburbanites looking for some new action, another lay, a little fun. They are often lumped together with dissatisfied Americans who seek solace in excess: spending, eating, drinking, working and/or partying just too damn much. Yet swingers' sexually liberated lifestyle does not make them addicts, nor does it mean they have a "problem." In fact, they seem to be the most well-adjusted, mellow and happy group of strangers I have ever spent time with.

•Meeting of the Minds: Except for a few low-cut dresses and black-leather pants, the pre-event meeting of presenters, publications and club leaders/owners could just as well have been a real-estate seminar or school reunion.

In terms of the swing world, this congregation represented a true meeting of the minds. Patti Thomas, managing editor of the 16 various Connection magazines, the largest and most popular of the swing publications, held court while her husband Tom pressed flesh. Other attending notables included Alan Miles, editor-in-chief of the voluminous and gutsy Texas Connection magazine; Mike and Chris of the infamous Red Rooster club; "Crazy Shirley" of "Shirley Sez" fame; raven-haired Tina, star of a swinging/adventure movie that premiered at the convention, The Xpedition; and, of course, the ubiquitous Sasha Gabor, inconspicuous in tight black leather.

The shining star of the affair, the man who made it all happen, the spiritual guru and fearless leader of all faithful swingers, is a slight, well-dressed, unassuming man in his early 50s. Robert McGinley ("Dr. Bob" to his swinging cohorts) holds a Ph.D. in counseling psychology and is America's most outspoken advocate of the lifestyle. Over the years, McGinley built a swinging empire in the sunny terrain of Buena Park, California, a stone's throw from Disneyland.

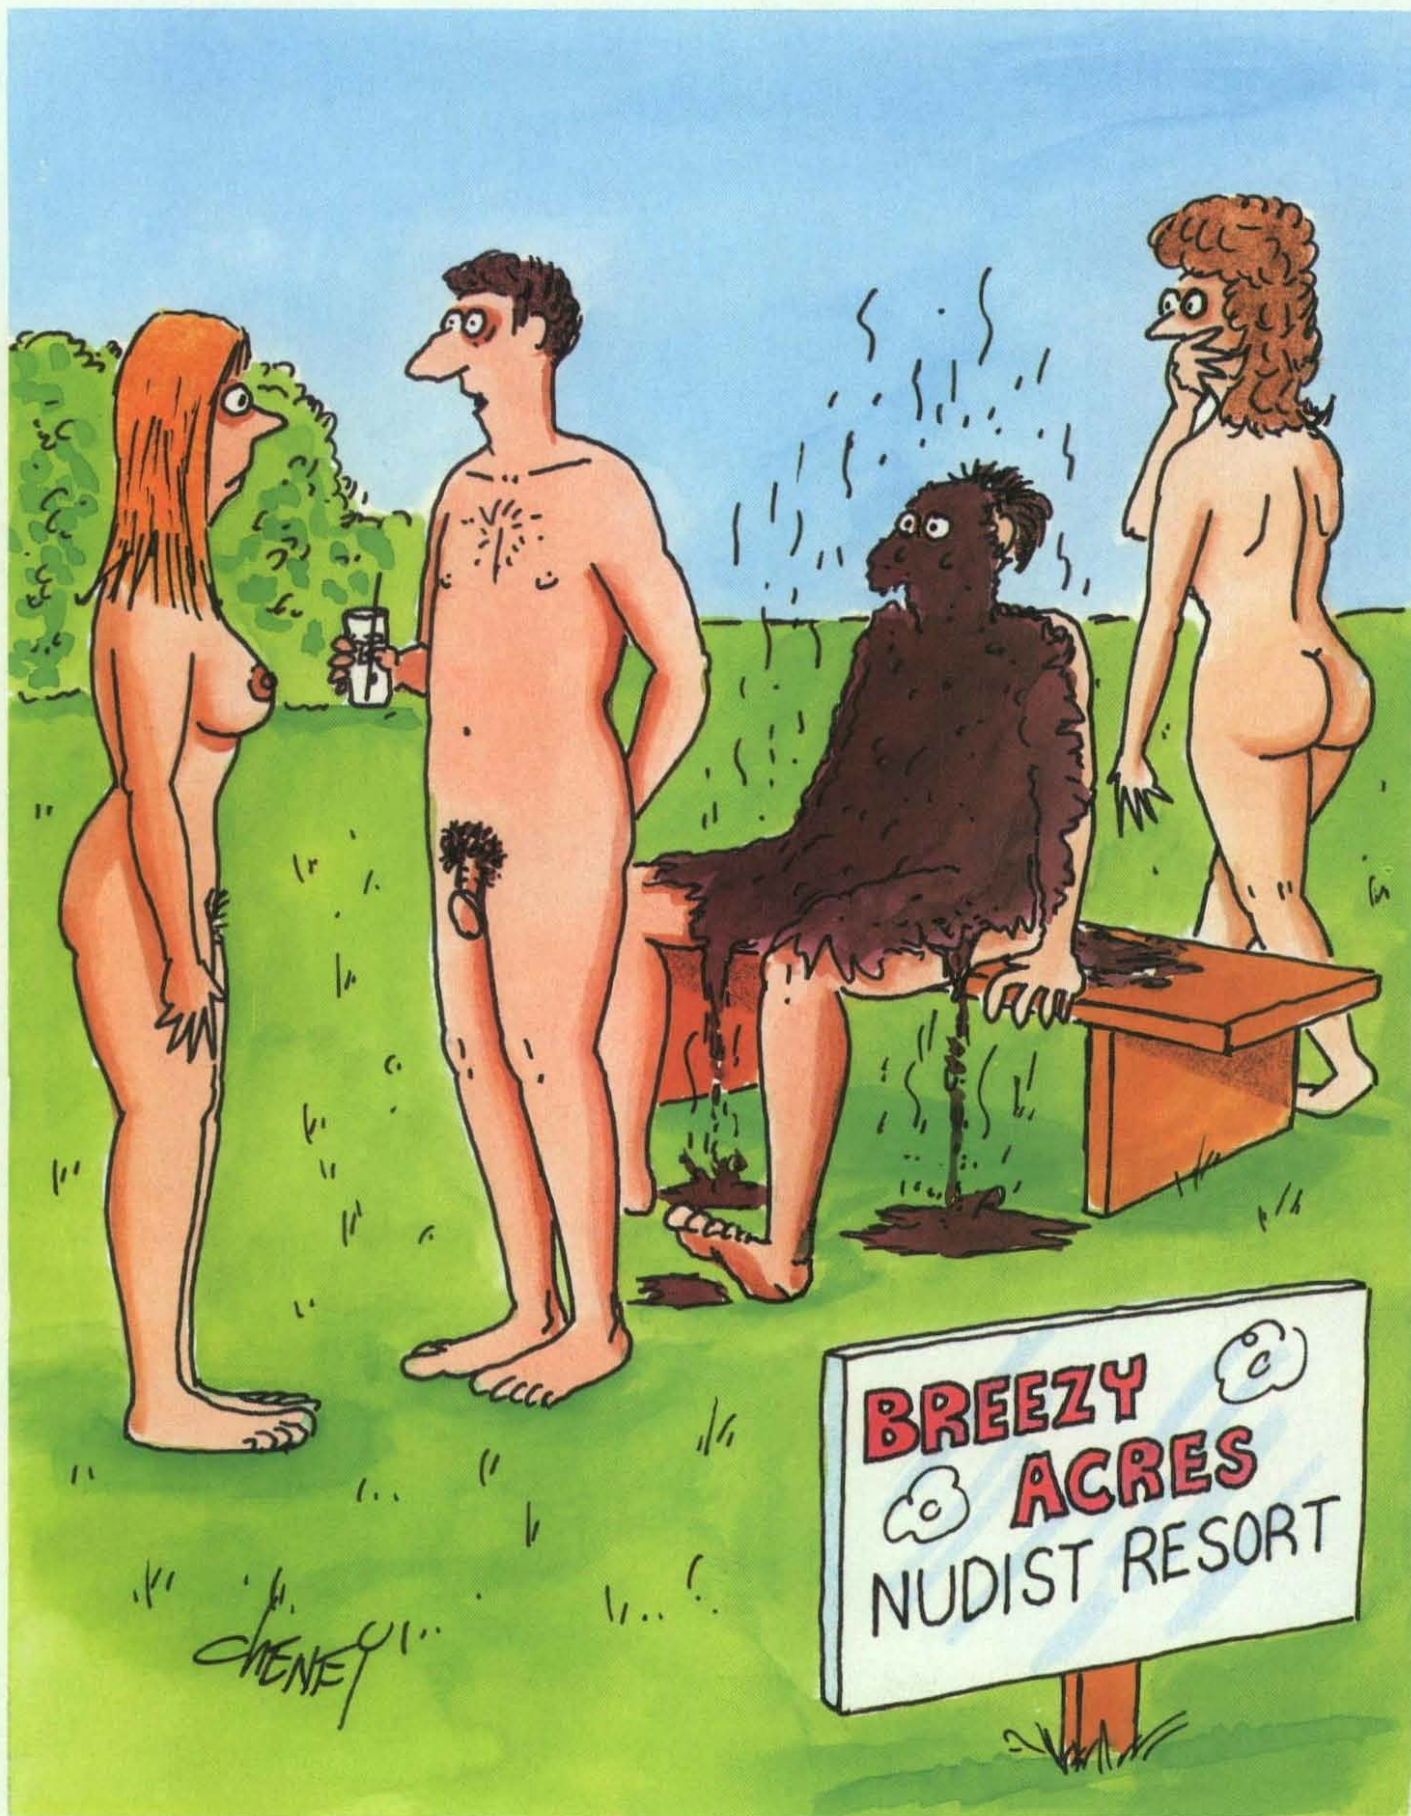

With his wife Geri, McGinley cofounded and is president of the Lifestyles Organization, the group responsible for the convention. He is codirector of Club WideWorld, one of the oldest private-membership social swing clubs in America, and perhaps the best-known, with around 2,000 members. In addition, Bob functions as editor and publisher of Emerge/PlayCouple, an international bimonthly newsletter on swinging. He is also president of Lifestyles Tours & Travel, which offers exotic package vacations to the swinging crowd. Not surprisingly, Bob is a popular guest on incendiary psychobabble shows like Donahue and Oprah, where, despite all efforts to the contrary, he comes across as a kind, sincere and intelligent man who makes a helluva lot of sense. Bob McGinley is a busy man.

Besides, letting the sun's warmth get you itching between the legs as you loll nude about the pool will only lead to painful hard-ons that stress your cock veins, and the kind of speech impediment women suffer when they have a mouthful of man jam. Breathing can be seriously impaired when your face is buried in hot, wet cooze. Repeated attempts to master cunnilingus could result in a nine-inch tongue and the ability to breath through your ears. You could strain a muscle or sunburn your ass pronging some pussy at poolside. Inevitably, sex will make you lose some precious bodily fluid. Take the advice of old men in Washington—if you want to fuck people, get elected.

EYEWITNESSES ACCOUNT

Inmates who are just too much trouble go to San Quentin Prison. People who can't adjust to San Quentin mainline maximum-security custody go to the San Quentin Adjustment Center. Inmates who go to the Adjustment Center are under extremely heavy security. It's the end of the road. They can't go to any higher security than that.

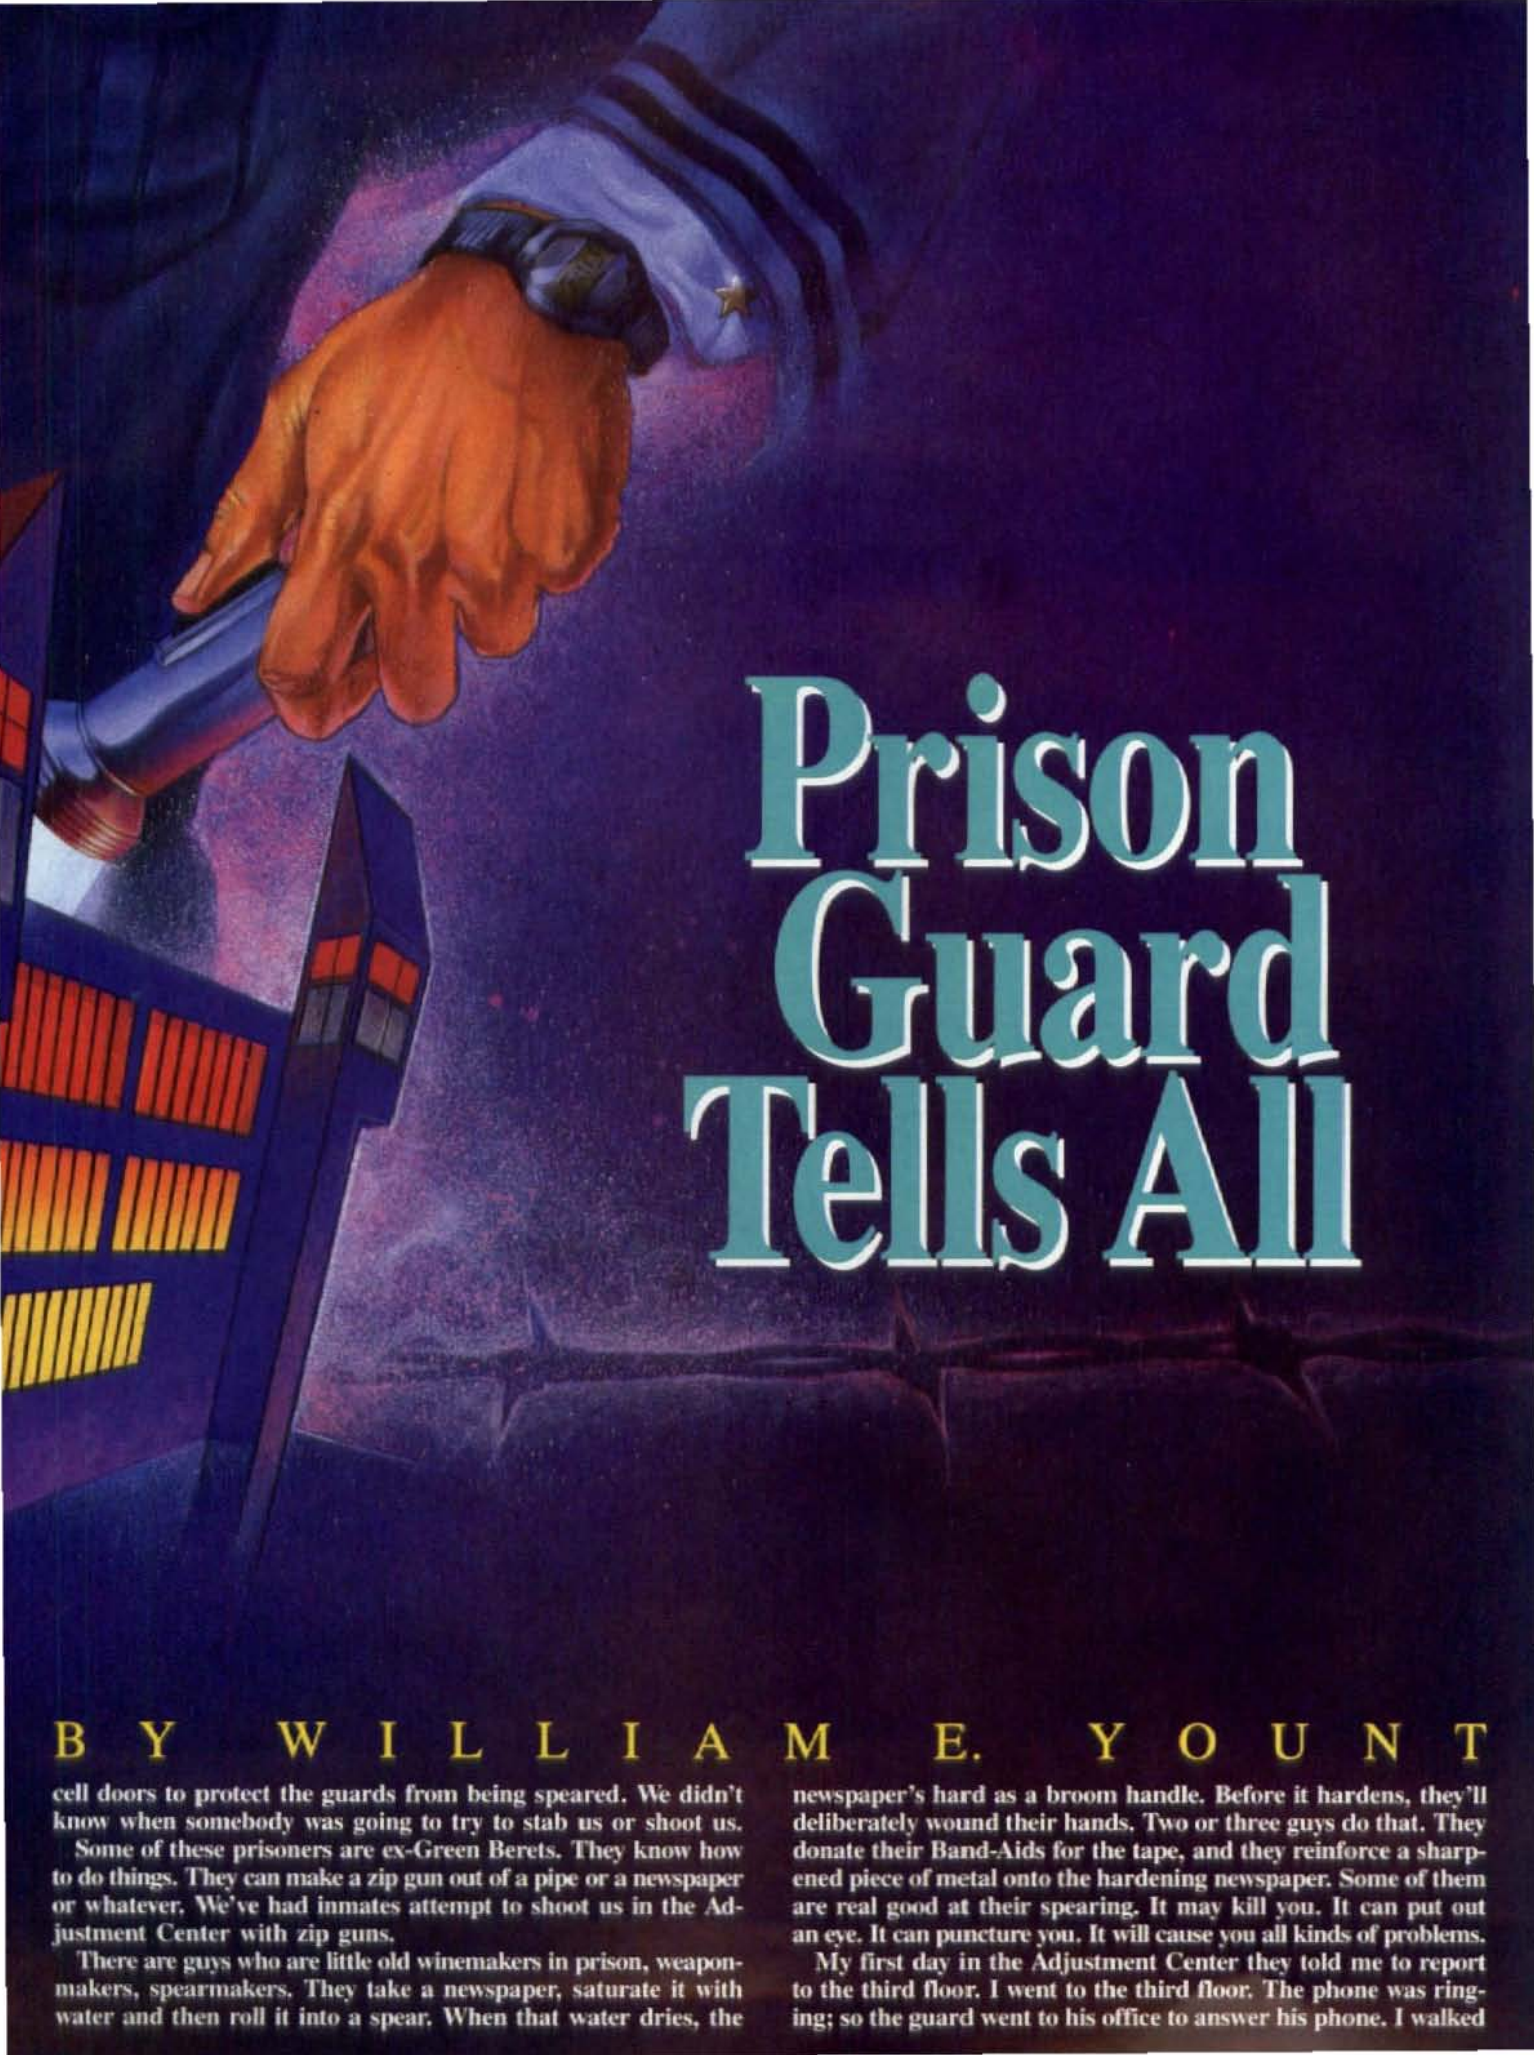

I worked there for approximately 11 years.

The 102 inmates in the Adjustment Center are locked down, one to a cell, by different gang affiliations, black, white, Mexican. They come out of their cells about once every three days. The inmates' attitudes need to be adjusted.

The only guns around the San Quentin Prison lockup units are up on the gun rails. Imagine a big warehouse. The cell structures are in the center of the warehouse. Between the cell structures and the walls of the housing unit is a corridor. Up above are the catwalks where the guards patrol. In San Quentin you're always looking at a gun, whether you're a guard or an inmate.

We had to watch our backs. They put up steel screens on the cell doors to protect the guards from being speared. We didn't know when somebody was going to try to stab us or shoot us.

Some of these prisoners are ex-Green Berets. They know how to do things. They can make a zip gun out of a pipe or a newspaper or whatever. We've had inmates attempt to shoot us in the Adjustment Center with zip guns.

There are guys who are little old winemakers in prison, weapon-makers, spearmakers. They take a newspaper, saturate it with water and then roll it into a spear. When that water dries, the newspaper's hard as a broom handle. Before it hardens, they'll deliberately wound their hands. Two or three guys do that. They donate their Band-Aids for the tape, and they reinforce a sharpened piece of metal onto the hardening newspaper. Some of them are real good at their spearing. It may kill you. It can put out an eye. It can puncture you. It will cause you all kinds of problems.

My first day in the Adjustment Center they told me to report to the third floor. I went to the third floor. The phone was ringing; so the guard went to his office to answer his phone. I walked

10 Commandments of Prison Reform

- 1) Incarcerate only as a last resort by expanding the use of community-based treatment.
- 2) Make prisons humane by holding staff as well as residents legally responsible for their actions.
- 3) Make prisons safe by cracking down on interpersonal violence and homosexual rape.
- 4) Make prison life tough, yet fair, by segregating violent and dangerous inmates while providing all inmates the opportunity to earn "good time" and work their way into less restrictive environments.
- 5) Treat inmates as individuals with individual problems by vastly expanding therapeutic treatment programs.
- 6) Provide troubled inmates with professional and confidential counseling by counselors employed by agencies outside the prison administration.
- 7) Encourage families to stay together by facilitating private, intimate and personal contact visits.
- 8) Stop using prisons as dumping grounds for victimless crimes such as gambling, prostitution and marijuana use.
- 9) Aim for 100% literacy among inmates by making the ability to read and write a prerequisite for all early-release programs.
- 10) Place a renewed emphasis on reforming America's jails and prisons by providing the resources necessary to make them truly effective rehabilitative institutions.

in to the tiers where the inmates are housed. I saw this white inmate, Kurt Turflinger, walking down the tier. A black inmate, Barry, was in the shower. The shower door opened, and the black inmate, nude, came running out.

Another black inmate flipped Barry a knife, and with this knife, he was running at this white inmate. Turflinger took a fighting stance, but Barry overpowered him, jumped on top and stabbed him.

Meanwhile, I was blowing my whistle to attract attention. I didn't have any keys. This guard finally got off the phone. He came running out; he saw what was happening. There're no real alarms in the unit; so he went back and phoned downstairs for help. It seemed like an eternity, but within a minute we had help up there, and we pulled Barry off the white inmate. He was stabbed about 25 times.

This Turflinger was so tough that he survived it. He was a well-built inmate, well into exercise. The next day he could actually walk out of bed with this little IV machine, talking with the doctors.

Two or three years later that black inmate changed his physical appearance from 200 pounds down to around 150. He looked like a weakling compared to before. He had a long beard. To this day I hardly believe it was the same guy. But the Aryan Brotherhood (AB) recognized him. Two ABs spotted him. One grabbed him, and the other stabbed him twice. You screw with an AB, you die.

I didn't know what was going on as a rookie. The next day I walked into the Adjustment Center. I had just arrived, and bam, and another bam. I ran out to the yard, and an inmate had just been shot by a guard. The guard, I understand, was somewhat of a racist. The inmate killed was white, and the guard was black. What's a better way for a payback? The guard started to have problems after that. He's no longer with the department.

Basically, life as a guard is almost like being an airline stewardess. We sweep the debris off the tiers. We serve the food. We pick up the trays. We wash the kitchen utensils. We pass out sheets, detergent, paper. We take inmates out to the yard.

The recreation yard is divided into sections for blacks, whites and Mexicans. Their affiliation determines what yard the inmates can go to and what day they go to that particular yard. First, the guards go out and search the yards for weapons or anything. Two other guards go up on the gun rail with guns. Each inmate is strip-searched and escorted from his cell by two guards. He's handcuffed behind his back. He has to bend over and show his ass to a guard with a flashlight. Then we escort him into a holding cage. His clothes are searched; his butt is checked

If your tongue tingles for a sweet treat, imagine a Honey whose strawberry-blond top sets off her alabaster skin, all trimmed in creamy white-lace underwear. If you need help imagining your dream desert, ponder these packed pages. Linda isn't old-fashioned in any sexual sense, but she does opt for basic whites over to-

Israeli Prime Minister Shamir invited the Pope to play golf. Since the Pope had no idea how to play, he convened the college of cardinals to ask their advice. "Call Arnold Palmer," they suggested. "Make him a cardinal and let him play in your place. Tell Shamir you're sick."

Honored by His Holiness's request, Palmer agreed to represent him. When he returned from the match, the Pope asked him how he had done.

"I came in second," Palmer replied.

"You mean to tell me Shamir beat you?"

"No, Your Holiness. Rabbi Nicklaus did."

Question: What has 72 arms, 36 heads, is fat, smells like beer and has an IQ of two?

Answer: A redneck bar on Friday night.

On the opening day of fishing season in Idaho, an old man in a pickup truck bearing Wyoming license plates unloaded a canoe, a one-piece bamboo rod and a beat-up old tackle box and headed to the lake. Several hours later he returned with 50 large trout. The local fishermen, who had barely had a nibble, asked the old man his secret, but he ignored them, loaded up his truck and drove away.

The scenario was repeated for the next several days. Finally, the Department of Fish and Game was called to investigate. When the old man arrived on schedule, the Fish and Game officer asked to join him. He shrugged and motioned him into the canoe. After an hour of paddling, he reached into his tackle box, pulled out a stick of dynamite, lit the fuse and threw it into the water. The officer watched in shock as the old man netted several stunned fish.

"Sir, I don't know what the laws are in Wyoming," the officer said, "but here in Idaho, it's illegal to dynamite fish."

The old man pulled out another stick of dynamite, lit the fuse, threw it into the officer's lap and growled, "Boy, you gonna sit there and talk, or are you gonna fish?"

Question: Why do shepherds wear flowing robes?
Answer: Because sheep can hear a zipper a mile away.

An hour after checking into a motel, a traveling salesman stormed up to the front desk. "What kind of riffraff joint are you running?" he demanded.

"What's the problem, sir?" stammered the confused desk clerk.

"I went up to my room, unlocked the door, and there was a man holding a gun," blustered the angry guest. "He told me to get on my knees and give him a blowjob or he'd blast my brains all over the room."

"Oh, my God!" gasped the clerk, shocked and embarrassed. "What did you do?"

"What do you think?!" the salesman screamed. "You didn't hear any shots, did you?"

Tex was in a bar, handing out cigars, celebrating the birth of his first son.

"How large is the baby?" asked the bartender.

"Twenty-five pounds," answered Tex.

"My God, 25 pounds! Ain't that a huge baby?"

"Well," explained Tex, "we Texans do things on a big scale. This is just followin' our regular pattern."

A week later Tex returned to the same bar.

"How much does the baby weigh now?" asked the bartender.

"Sixteen pounds," said Tex.

"Sixteen pounds?" said the bartender. "Why, last week you said he weighed 25 pounds!"

"He did," Tex replied, "but since then we've had him circumcised."

Ethel and Ralph were watching TV. Every so often Ethel would belch. Then she would fart. At first the belches and farts were small, but they progressively grew louder and raunchier. Belch and fart, belch and fart.

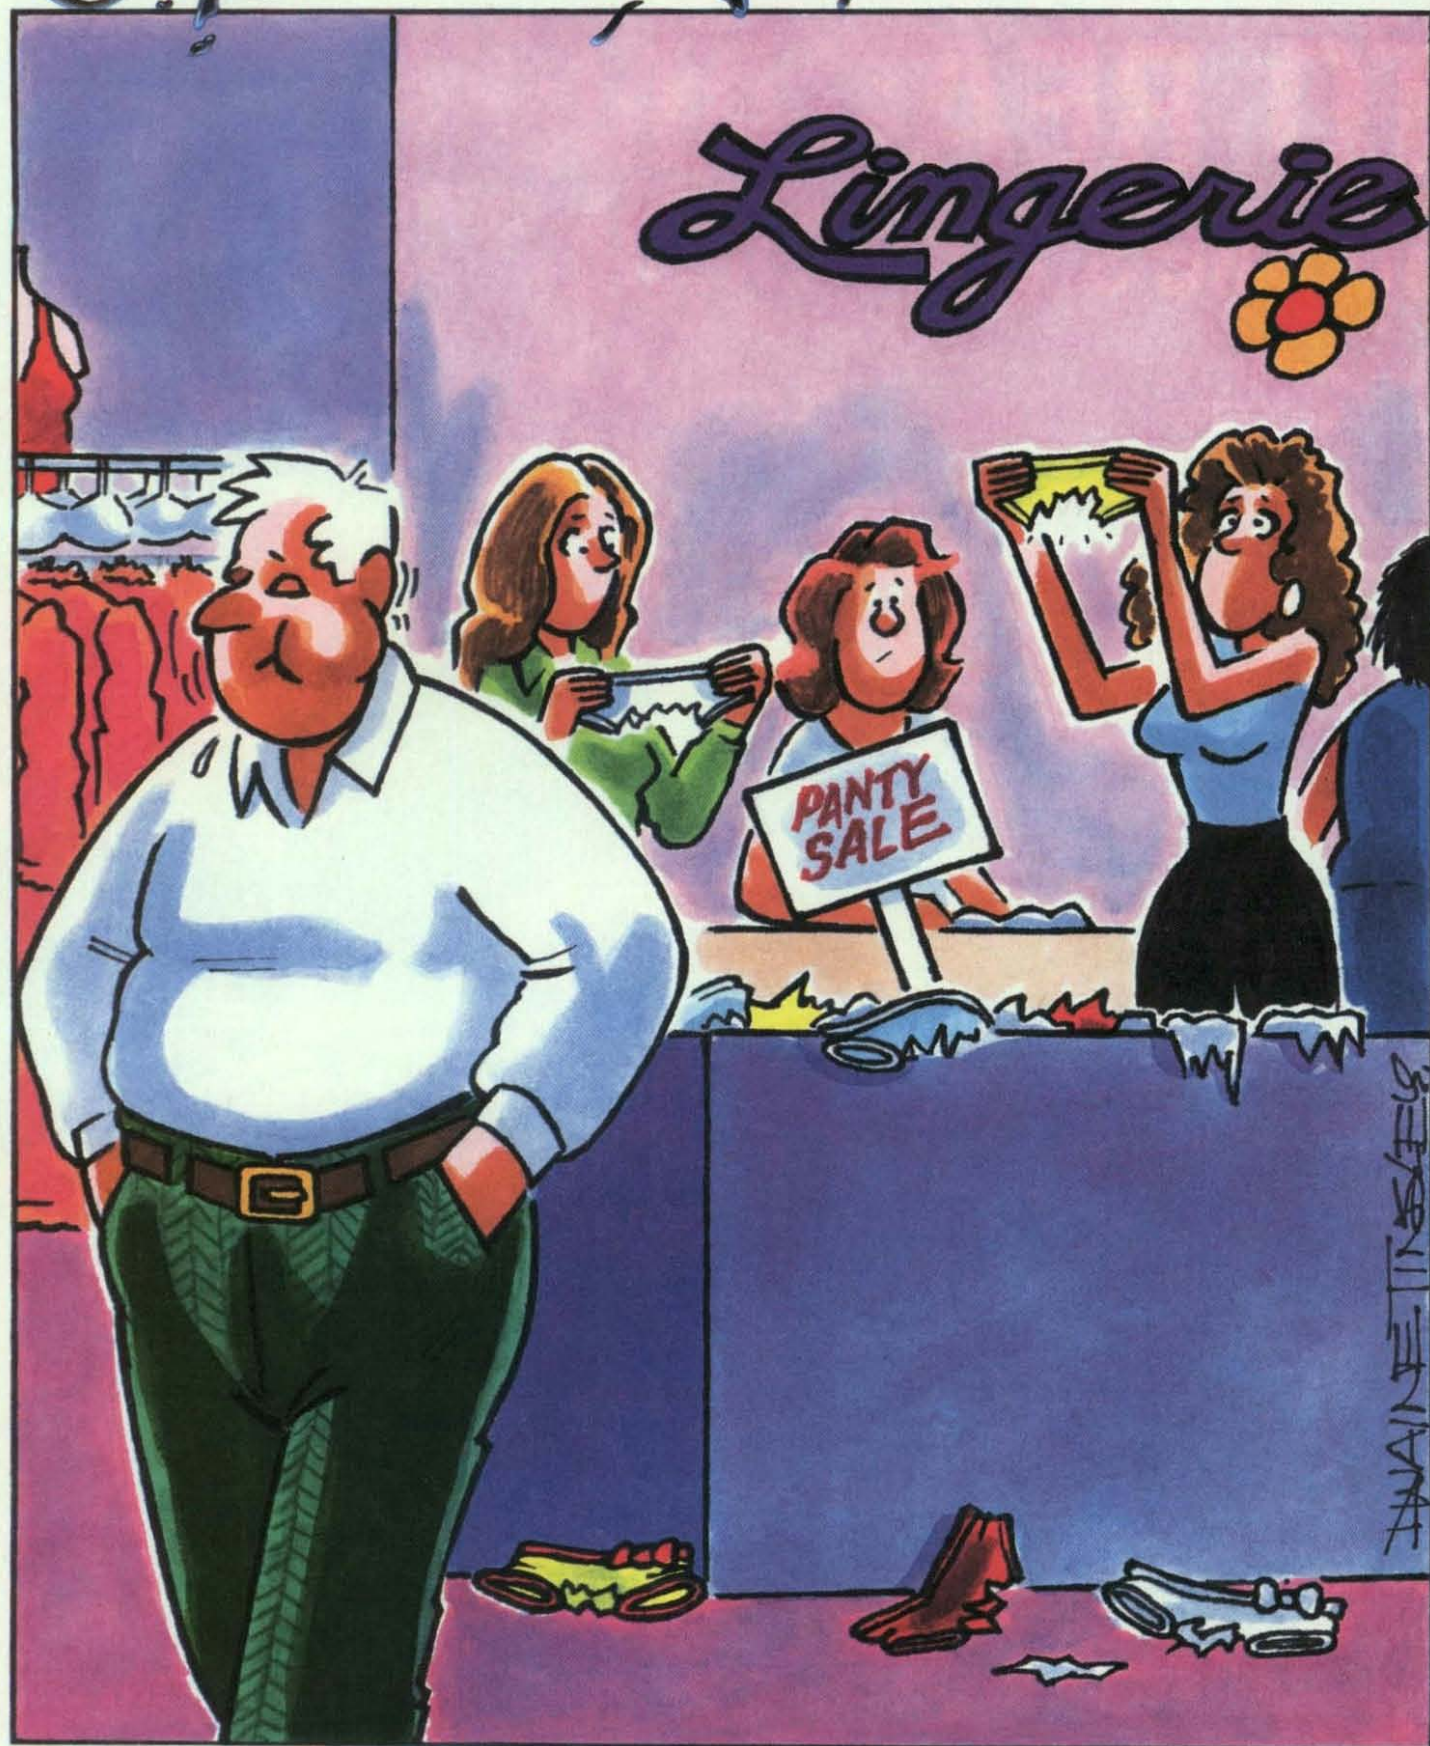

After a particularly thunderous outburst Ralph said, "Ethel, would you please knock it off. I'm trying to watch the show!" Belch and fart, belch and fart. "Damn it, Ethel," Ralph said, holding his nose, "knock it off!"

Ethel smiled and continued. Belch and fart, belch and fart. Finally, Ralph tried shaming her. "Please, Ethel, stop it," he said reasonably. "After all, it's not very ladylike."

"Neither is giving blowjobs," Ethel answered, "but I've never heard you complain about that!"

FAREWELL TO REAGAN: Ronnie's Last Bash

Surveillance
by Shutterbug

It's been a great eight years—for the power elite, that is. You can bet Nancy planned long and hard how to celebrate Ron Reagan's successful term of filling special-interest coffers while fucking John Q. Citizen right up the yazoo. A radical tax plan that more than halved taxes for the rich while doubling the working man's load; detaxation of industries, who trickled down their windfalls into mergers, takeovers, and investments in foreign lands; crooked deals with enemies of U.S. allies in return for dirty money for right-wing killers to reclaim former U.S. business territories overseas; more than 100 appointees who resigned in disgrace over ethics or outright criminal charges; and a vice president who doesn't even know what day Pearl Harbor was bombed are all legacies of the Reagan years.

HUSTLER didn't get its invitation to the blowout, even though we've given Nancy as much publicity as most Sunday supplements. Then again, sex wasn't a winner during the Ron era, and we'll still get whiffs of bullyboy Ed Meese's sexual intimidation policies for years to come, particularly with conservative whores posing as Supreme Court justices appointed by the Ad-dled One himself. Our photographer did manage to smuggle in his lenses in the body cavities of "hostesses" you'll never see at a country club coming-out ball.

HIKED UP HER ASS

Although Wendy had never been backpacking before, I finally talked my new girlfriend into a weekend hiking trip. Wendy is not really the outdoor type, but upon seeing her outfitted in hiking shorts, with her wool socks scrunched down to the top of her boots, showing off her tanned thighs and aerobicized calves, I knew my idea had been a good one. Her blond hair was pulled back in a ponytail, charming in its suggestion of girlishness, and her pointed breasts were plainly visible through her white T-shirt. They jutted forward between her pack straps, pointing the way into the wilderness like two jiggling, fleshy compasses.

We set out from my truck at 6,000 feet, taking the peak trail on Mt. San Geronio, the highest mountain in Southern California. Shading pines towered over the trail, and a thick layer of needles lay underfoot, providing a soft, comfortable walking surface. An occasional red-tailed hawk wheeled overhead, tilting an amber eye down on us.

Wendy led (at my suggestion), leaving me with an eye-level view of her firm ass cheeks working smoothly under the khaki shorts. She teased me as we walked, occasionally bending forward and pulling aside the crotch of her panties, exposing the bright pink folds of her cunt and the dark little hole of her anus. This seemed particularly cruel, since she had so far denied my wish to penetrate that beautiful butt. "You're going to pay for this later," I told her.

"I was hoping so," she responded with a sexy smile.

We stopped in the late afternoon to set up our camp, choosing a place far away from the hiking trail. A small spring bubbled out from a rock to form a pool, where we washed the day's sweat from our skin. I lay drying on a blanket in the sun, watching Wendy bathe. The sight of Wendy's hard nipples caused my cock to swell like a milkweed in the sun. Seeing this, Wendy climbed out of the pool and squeezed it in her soft hand.

"I think it's time I was punished," she said as we bathed. Before I could even agree, she continued, "I want you to tie me so that I can't move. Then I want you to spank me."

Shocked, but extremely eager, I got out of the water and went quickly to my pack for some rope. When I returned, Wendy was lying facedown on the blanket, her skin glowing golden in the late afternoon sun. She had freed her hair from the ponytail, and it lay soft as honey around her shoulders.

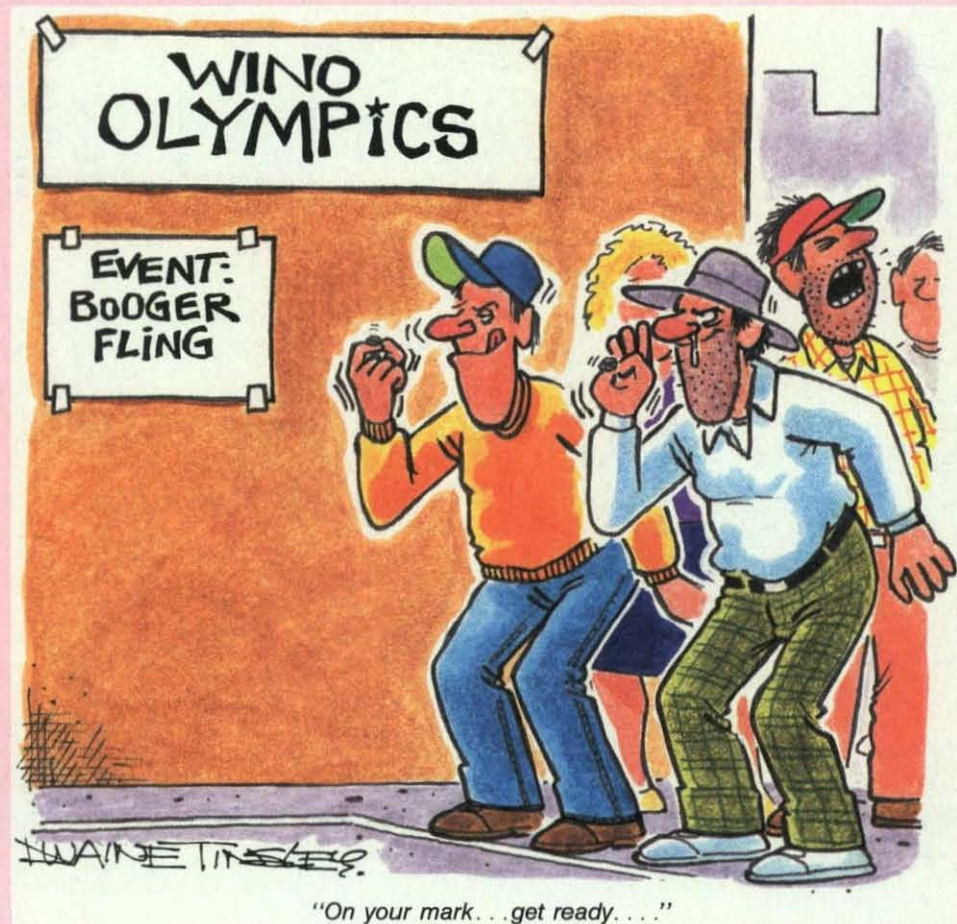

I tied thick pieces of nylon rope to each of her wrists and ankles, then tied these to four separate trees near the corners of the blanket so that she was spread like a starfish on the ground. Her full breasts were pressed against the blanket and bulged out, pale and smooth, at her sides.

I stepped back to survey my work, then approached her from behind, still naked, with my dick sticking out from my body like a tree limb. I sat straddling her lower back, facing that lovely round ass. Its pale curves were darkened by the dappled shade, and a single ray of sunlight fell on her pouting pussy lips, sparkling the glistening dew. With my right hand I reached out and smacked her left butt cheek, hard.

"Owl!" she cried.

"What?" I said. "Too much for you already?"

"On your mark... get ready..."

HOT LETTERS

I pushed my dick into her squirming hole. "You're at my mercy," I said. "I can do whatever I want."

"No," she stated firmly. As if to prove it, Wendy wiggled her naked ass invitingly, daring me to spank her again.

I did so with my full palm. It left a red mark on her pale skin, and my hand throbbed with the sting, but she never cried out. I smacked her again, hard enough to hurt but careful not to bruise her lovely flesh. She moaned softly into the blanket and said, "Slap my pussy when you do it."

I eagerly obliged, cupping my fingers slightly and smacking my palm right over her asshole, so that my fingers curled in and struck her wet cunt lips. She moaned louder than ever, so I continued to strike her this way, noticing that her slit became wetter with each slap. Within minutes I couldn't stand this anymore.

I rose and walked around the blanket, looking at her lovely body completely spread-eagled and, oh, so inviting. I knelt between her legs for a closer look. Her ass was still pink where I had spanked her, and her cunt was red and open like a tulip. I reached my middle finger down to toy with the inner lips, stroking them and teasing her pink, swollen clit. It seemed to tremble as I touched it.

I then leaned forward and touched my tongue to her anus. She squirmed and began to complain, but two fingers in her cunt quickly silenced her. My hiking partner moaned softly as my tongue ran in circles around her asshole and my fingers churned in her twat. I pushed my tongue into the tight ring of her butt muscle, savoring the skunky anal taste. It was the first time Wendy had allowed me this treat, since she was normally shy about her ass. But now, thanks to the ropes, I could do whatever I pleased.

I rose to my knees and leaned forward, letting my dick slap her on the ass as my hands had done earlier. I smacked her a few good ones with the hard shaft, then suddenly thrust it into her slippery cunt. She was wetter than I'd ever felt her before. Her cunt honey was actually running down and dripping from my balls as I fucked her. Reluctant to let such lubrication go to waste, I scooped up an index finger full and poked it into her tight browneye. In response she sighed and moaned as my finger and dick worked into her, less than an inch apart.

Her butt muscle had relaxed around my finger, so I knew it was time. I pulled my well-lubed cock from her pussy and placed the head against her anal ring. The sight of my purple glans at this portal—highlighted by the orange rays of the evening sun—drove me wild with horniness. I could barely summon the willpower to take it slowly for the sake of her virgin ass.

"What are you doing?" she suddenly asked. "You're not going to put it in there, are you?"

I just smiled and pushed the slippery head of my dick into her squirming hole. I paused there, allowing Wendy to adjust to this new sensation. "You're at my mercy," I said. "I can do whatever I want."

"But you know I never—"

"Then it's time you did." I slowly pushed my cock in deeper, squeezing it through the tight sphincters. She gasped at first, then sighed. Her hole was relaxing to let me in, but was still incredibly tight. It felt like a little mouth clamped fiercely on my shaft.

As her anus relaxed I increased the tempo, occasionally wetting my hand in her cunt and spreading the lube on my dick. At last, my dream had come true! The sun warmed my back, and the hawks cheered me on, adding to the glorious feeling of success.

Even Wendy seemed to have changed her tune. Not only had she stopped complaining; she was moaning and pushing her ass at me like a cat in heat. "Give it all to me," she said. "As deep as you can!"

I sunk my dick in to the hilt, feeling her tight buns against my pubic mound and the inside of her colon on my throbbing dick head. I fucked into her harder so that my balls slapped on her pussy lips, driving her wild.

"Oh, don't you dare stop!" she cried. "I'm coming. I'm coming. I'm coming!"

I couldn't hold my load any longer. "So am I!" I tried to say, and let fly with a squirt of hot jism deep in her bowels. I kept pumping while my dick spumed and Wendy thrashed and pulled on the ropes. Finally, my shot spent, I pulled my tingling cock out and rubbed it clean on her ass cheeks.

Wendy sighed and began to catch her breath. "That was great," she said. "But now it's my turn to tie you down."

Needless to say, we've done a lot of "packing" since then. —P. S.

BEAVER HUNT

New York, New York's GG, 26, is an executive secretary into raquetball, horseback riding and shopping. This Big Apple Beaver's fantasy is to go to her husband's office and fuck him on top of his desk.

Darling Nicki is a housewife in St. Petersburg, Florida, who dreams of sunbathing nude on a tropical island paradise. Fishing, swimming and sunbathing are this 26-year-old's hobbies.

Tina, 29, is a homemaker hailing from Merrillville, Indiana. The garden hobbyist hopes someday to be a gridiron great by screwing the Chicago Bears at halftime on the 50-yard line in Soldier Field.

"Fucking my brains out on the beach in Roratu Center, Tahiti," is what Christine, 40, daydreams about. A housewife in Durango, Colorado, this photo-funny fox likes model railroading, water-skiing and street-rodding.

Nineteen-year-old K. C. serves it up hot as a waitress in Wilmington, North Carolina. This sprightly gal enjoys water sports and partying, and yearns to "have sex in all ways for 24 hours or longer—nonstop."

Tacoma, Washington's Barbara is a certified nurse's aide who spends time cooking, exercising and doing crafts when not attending to the needs of others. This 24-year-old patriotic Beaver is also an Army reservist whose fantasy is to pose for HUSTLER photographers.

Obviously, 22-year-old Salina loves to model outdoors, but this model/housewife's hidden urge is to appear in a lot of different magazines and make an X-rated movie with her boyfriend to "let the world see how it's really done!" Hailing from the lovely city of Belmont, Ohio, she also enjoys fishing.

Some husbands arranged gang-bangs for their wives. Fans of pain arranged to be whipped, clipped and whatever.

Addressing the masses about the upcoming weekend, McGinley offered some of the smartest advice of all: Get some rest. Indeed, the confab posed the equivalent of a sharks' feeding frenzy. Slowly the place filtered out, leaving only the air of anticipation.

•Invasion of the Swingers: On Friday, while the publishers and club leaders discussed economic, social and political aspects of their "business" at the North American Swing Club Association's conference, the majority of swingers were pouring through the front doors of the Hacienda. They obediently lined up along the red-velvet ropes that fronted the reception area, laughing and talking quietly among themselves. It seemed as if a representative group of Middle America had walked straight into the Hacienda lobby. Like their leaders, these swingers were, on the exterior, the definition of normalcy.

Couples who arrived before 7:30 p.m. could partake in the "Evening of Caresive Intimacy," a clothing-optional, orchestrated-to-music workshop not open to single men or women. In this popular Lifestyles seminar, couples did the touchy-feely thing en masse; groping, however, is always limited to your own partner.

On a similar discriminatory note, the following "Get Acquainted Dance" was for "couples only," although single women are admitted to swing events. Exclusion of single males is common in the swing world. Serious swingers don't want to be overrun by horny, lonely single men looking for a quick fuck. This implies that single women who attend these affairs are seeking something deeper than sex alone—a debatable and sexist contention. Still, the double standard exists, and no one—except for the single guy on the outside—is complaining.

Free in their element, excited by the prospect of making new connections, the sexual recreationists got down and boogied until 1:30 in the morning. They shook their things; they ground their groins; they flashed their jewels—what real dirty dancing is all about. Many took the opportunity to meet some new friends and go back to their rooms for some casual sex. Others organized more elaborate parties; upward of 20 people often end up boning in a Holiday Inn-size hotel room. Some husbands arranged gang-bangs for their wives. Fans of pain and knots arranged to be whipped, clipped and whatever. Some just went quietly to bed with their own wives, in hopes of getting a jump on Saturday's events. Many were saving their strength for the piece de resistance of the convention, Saturday night's Erotic Masquerade Ball.

Somewhere, far off in the bowels of the hotel, a woman sat naked on an apparent cousin of the electric shoeshine box, bucking like a rodeo rider and howling like a wounded gibbon. She had discovered a thing called Sybian.

•A Sybian Kind of Saturday: Saturday kicked off the seminar portion of the Lifestyles convention with a wide selection of discussions and lectures: "Radical Sexuality: How to Avoid Getting More but Enjoying It Less," "AIDS: What Are the Risks?," "Guidelines for Success in Open Relationships," "An Introduction to Oriental Sexual Secrets," and many others. A lecture in the Granada Room entitled "Female Orgasmic Response" promised, of all things, a demonstration.

The Granada, the largest of the seminar rooms, was filled to capacity by the time I arrived. I took a seat in the rear behind four leather-clad S&M necrobillies, a guy and three girls who looked very serious about their fun. The four of them were pierced and tattooed, with one of the girls sporting a striking tattoo of angel wings up the whole of her back.

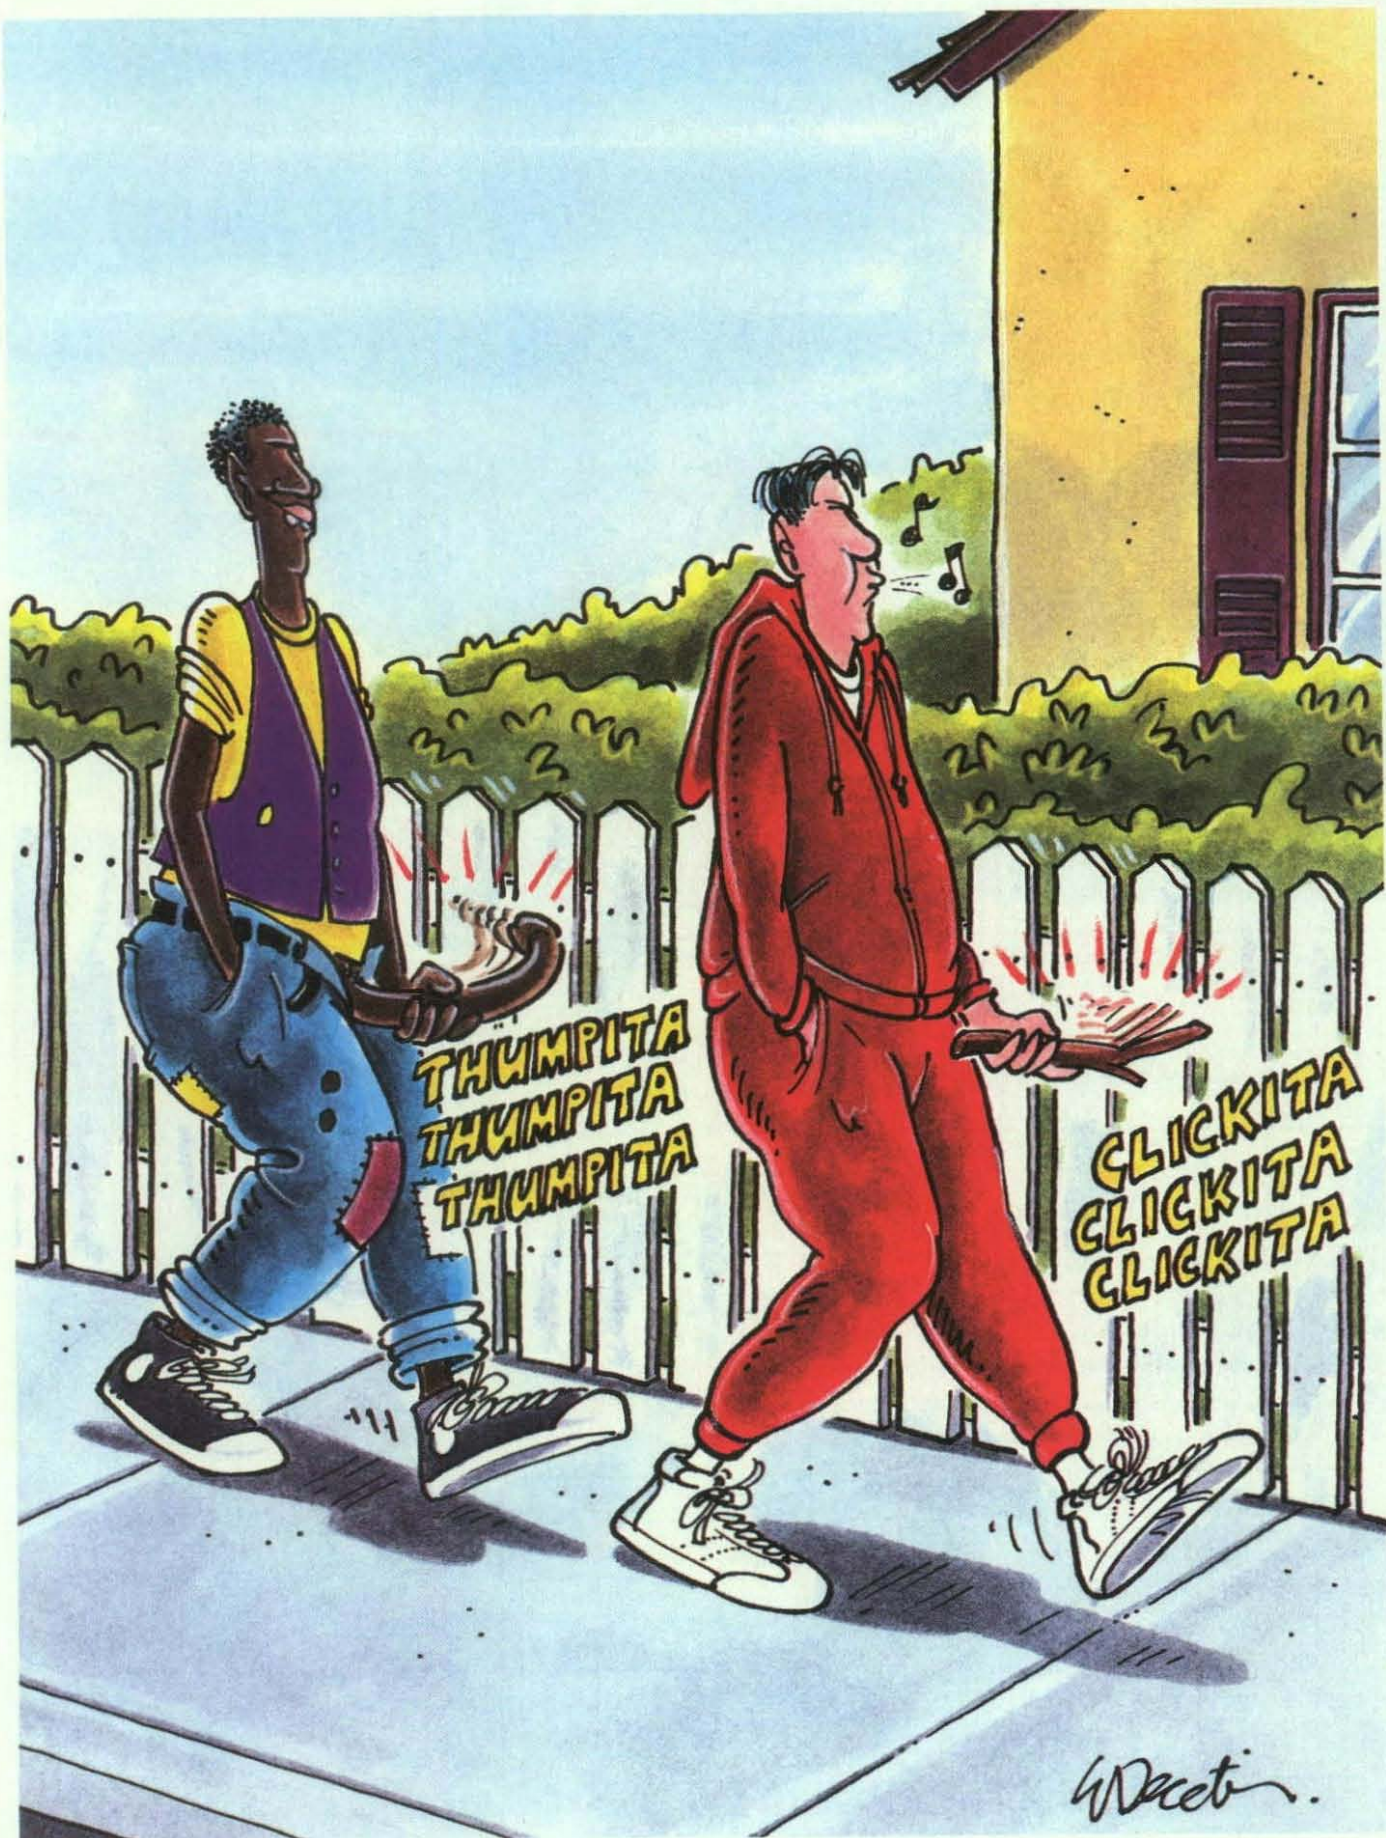

The creation of a professorial gentleman named Dave Lampert, Sybian is basically what James Brown was shouting about when he did "Sex Machine"—a device designed to bring almost all women to the most profound orgasm they have ever experienced. While it sounds like a pipe dream from the future, Sybian is very real—and very expensive at around $1,395. At first sight, Sybian seems like a lopsided, elaborate dildo display. Press a button and the device rotates and vibrates. In fact, Sybian is little more than a dildo mounted on a small, vinyl-covered saddle. The motor, contained in the unit, drives the hard "shaft" on the top of the machine, on which can be placed various sizes of dildos. Boasting two 1/50 horsepower engines, dual controls for vibration and rotation speed and 14 years of research and development, Sybian is anything but a toy.

Lampert, in his brief, informative lecture, claimed that his motivation for building Sybian stemmed from his deep desire to please a woman; and indeed, all women seem pretty damn pleased when they're atop the little sucker. After discussing various therapeutic uses for his invention—such as curing women who have difficulty experiencing orgasms—

ENLARGE YOUR PENIS TO IT'S MAXIMUM! HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

The MAXUM-TEN is the ONLY PENIS DEVELOPER you will ever need!

Is the size of your penis bringing you down? Sure, the medical authorities say the size doesn't count; but as long as women have a need to be filled, they will demand the full measure of devotion. And no amount of psychological reassurance will fill the gap between expectation and reality.

Now, with a simple device you can follow in the footsteps of thousands of men who have proven that there is a way to INCREASE PENIS SIZE and THICKNESS! The device is called the MAXUM-TEN ELECTRIC VACUUM ENLARGER. A safe and proven natural way to add inches to penis length and thickness. With the MAXUM-TEN, you will see yourself grow to dimensions you never thought possible.

HOW CAN THE MAXUM-TEN ELECTRIC VACUUM ENLARGER INCREASE PENIS LENGTH & THICKNESS?

Your erection is caused by blood flowing into hollow caverns inside your penis. The caverns fill with blood and your penis grows in size and thickness and becomes stiffer and stiffer until the caverns are filled with all the blood they can hold. BUT, IF YOU INCREASE THE CAPACITY OF THE CAVERNS BY MAKING THEM BIGGER, THEY HOLD MORE BLOOD and you have a correspondingly longer, thicker penis. Regular use of the MAXUM-TEN gently urges the caverns to expand... expand... expand. You'll see the astonishing results the first time you use your MAXUM-TEN. Your penis will grow inside the clear, picture window sleeve. Immediately you'll see just how really BIG... how really FAT... how LONG... how HARD and STIFF your own penis can get! And after regular sessions with the MAXUM-TEN you'll probably find as do most men that these size gains don't go away! They become a part of you to thrill and excite her!

AT LAST! A BOOK THAT ILLUSTRATES THE PURE JOYS OF MASTURBATION!

In a short time you can learn new ways of enjoying sexual ecstasy alone or with your partner! Dozens of techniques are exposed in words and photos. Every act, every method, every device is discussed in detail. Learn to enjoy prolonged periods of continuous ecstasy! To delay your climax as long as you want! To make your climax super-charged with power and sensations. A must for the connoisseur of erotic delights!

A Completely New & Powerful Triple-Strength TURN ON FORMULA

TURN-ON is a NEW triple strength formula that will create uncontrollable sexual desire in women (and men) with no harmful effects. After taking — tiny particles of this genuine imported spice find their way into the urinary tract and safely imported stimulates the sexual organs of either sex. Resistance just melts away! It mixes unnoticed in food or drink. Remember TURN-ON pills are inert formulas that is triple strength and is a sure-fire way to boost your make-out score! 30 day supply is nationally sold for $12.95 — but check our prices!

THE MAXUM-TEN IS SIMPLY THE MOST POWERFUL ENLARGEMENT SYSTEM YOU CAN PURCHASE ANYWHERE! AT ANY PRICE!

This powerful, totally electric unit (U.L. approved) is equipped to plug into any wall outlet to give you continuous, even sucking power until you shut it off! Unlike noisy electric vacuum enlargers costing upwards of $100 — the MAXUM-TEN is "quite as a whisper." This sophisticated instrument is by far the state of the art in penis enhancing machinery. It has taken time, money and first-class engineering to produce what many have called the "Rolls Royce" of vacuum enlargers. The MAXUM-TEN is a finely crafted precision instrument designed to create the vacuum needed to make the male organ LONG and THICKER. If you are truly serious about penis enlargement — the MAXUM-TEN will do the job for you!

Soon the first orgasm racked her body with a scream, then the second, the third. . .you lost count after a while.

Lampert asked for a volunteer from the audience. A titter of excitement moved through the crowd; yet no one among these so-called swingers stood up. So Lampert employed the body of a fellow physician, an attractive female who was among those who helped him perfect Sybian.

As the lithe doctor stripped to her skin, 200-some spectators huddled around the front of the room in a great arc. Some crouched down close to get a good look, while others stood on chairs to get a bird's-eye view. Lampert undressed to red and blue skivvies and sat on a matching stool directly in front of the machine. After the little lady had firmly mounted the dildo and made herself comfortable, Lampert played with the controls, slowly increasing the intensity of the rotation and vibration. Accordingly, his partner became more and more lost in her erotic reverie, moaning, groaning, gripping and writhing as she held on to Lampert for what seemed like dear life. Soon the first orgasm racked her body with a scream, then the second, the third. . .you lost count after a while. A look of gleeful approval and unmitigated awe stole over the onlooking females. The men were no less impressed, though somewhat intimidated.

After this erotic vocal demonstration, the crowd warmed up a bit. At least the girl with the tattooed wings did. Shedding her unnecessary leather accoutrements, the punky angel stepped forward and squatted onto Sybian with a self-satisfied smirk on her face. The man who had been sitting next to her assumed the stool position. A girl with a mohawk and tattoos on the side of her head crouched behind and lashed at her with a cat-o'-nine-tails. This little scenario provided an eyebrow-raiser to the usually hip swing crowd, divided between laughter and alarm.

Punky angel launched into the now-familiar moan cycle, accented by the slapping of leather straps on her back. With perhaps the smallest bit of resentment for having been born a man, I climbed down from my chair and made my way to the nearest exit. Angel's wails followed me all the way out the door. (Sybian is available from ABCO Research Associates, P.O. Box 329, Monticello, IL 61856-0329, 217-762-2141.)

"Quit feeding beans to those fish!"

•Black and White and Red All Over:

I was playing roulette, trying to take my mind off the Sybian experience, when I met a fellow Texan who I'll call Dave. A big black dude, 36, with an ex-football player's physique and a stack of chips that could have choked a llama, Dave was there for the Lifestyles convention with his wife, a confirmed blackjack player.

I hadn't seen many—if any—blacks at the convention. Yet swing magazines are packed with ads requesting black men, with large penises in particular. This proves true especially for swing mags from Dixie, where the taboo obviously heats the belles under those big hoop skirts. Was there a shortage of black swingers? Did they just not show up? Did anybody notice? Dave didn't seem concerned.

"My wife and I, we've swung with black folks; we've swung with white folks. . .it doesn't really matter. We don't care about skin color, really." Dave plopped down a handful of chips on red. "Some people are looking for a black dude just 'cause he's got a big one, right? But that's not what I'm into when I make a connection with a white woman—I don't want to be just a big dick, you dig?"

I dug, and the ball plopped down in a red slot. Dave moved his winnings to black. I put mine on red.

"Personally, that's a turnoff for me," Dave said. "My wife feels the same way. It's okay to be appreciated because you're black, you're different, but that can't be the only reason for the connection."

The number came up red again. The girl scooped away Dave's chips, replenished mine. Dave counted his chips. "You swing?" he said, looking up briefly.

"Nah," I said.

"Why not?" he asked.

"Chicken," I said.

"It's not for everyone," he said.

"Neither is gambling," I said. And with that, we both cashed in our chips.

•Swingers a Go-Go: When the doors opened for the magical Erotic Masquerade Ball, swingers—again, couples only—were lined up to get in. A discreet path funneled risque and revealing costume-wearers too bold for the casino, which meant most of the 1,000-plus partygoers.

Within the hour live music pumped the Convention Center Ballroom's even livelier swingers, who pranced about in costumes bordering on nonexistence. Some party people took the dressing up seriously, as was evident by the elaborate outfits vying for final honors in the costume contest. A couple with a pseudo-Satanic theme took first place, which may or may not say something about the way in which swingers view themselves.

Before he and the little missus left for a "party" in one of the hotel rooms, I spot-out again; his mouth is checked out; his hair is checked. Everything's checked out with a flashlight. We run a metal detector up and down the guy. He goes to an electronically controlled door in the holding cage, then goes out into the recreation yard and puts on his clothing.

To run 20 to 30 inmates to the recreation yard takes approximately three hours. And they beat us. It's difficult to comprehend how they do it, but they still get knives all over the yard.

The inmates will wrap a sharpened piece of metal real good, and they'll shove it up their ass. The guy goes out to the recreation yard; he goes over to the toilet. It looks like he's taking a dump; actually, he's taking out his piece. He sets the piece alongside the toilet, and the piece eventually gets passed for the hit. The hitman comes up here, the piece is waiting for him, and he'll make the hit.

After a tier is cleared of inmates going to the recreation area, inmates who are assigned to shower on that given day are escorted to the shower. There's one shower and one inmate in that shower. While the showers are being taken, guards are searching cells and giving inmates sandwiches for lunch. Then guards start putting the recreation-yard inmates back into the housing unit. This is daily routine.

We're also constantly making counts. Every hour we have to phone the results in to control. It has to do with suicide attempts. They take a sheet, and they make a rope out of it, and they sling themselves to the bars. They sit down, squatting a few inches off the ground, with the sheet tied to the bars, and they die as a result of just that pressure of a few inches—within the period of one hour. I personally cut down nine inmates who were attempting suicide or had already committed suicide. Four of them didn't make it.

It's not a sophisticated job, but little extra goodies come up. Every now and then the inmates get rambunctious and throw feces all over the tiers. The guards have to clean up that feces—just a little extra goody to do on our regular shift.

Occasionally our supervisors will have us play a dirty trick on an inmate. One particular inmate, Joseph Whittier, I was told to put drugs into his food. We drugged the inmate for two or three weeks, and he became a very mellow person. Before that he had been quite high-spirited.

I didn't see him for two years. When he came back to San Quentin, his mind had been completely altered. He's a black man, but he came back thinking of himself as a white person. He had two personalities. There was him, and then there was ted Dave, his butt hanging out of a costume that looked like it was made from the curtains of his hotel room. His wife was with him, a buxom woman dressed in a revealing African ensemble that managed to be sexy and make a statement at the same time.

Everywhere you went, room numbers were being exchanged, dates were being set, watches were being synchronized. It seemed as if everyone was gearing up to make that Saturday night the true climax of the weekend by experiencing one colossal mutual orgasm—albeit in different rooms.

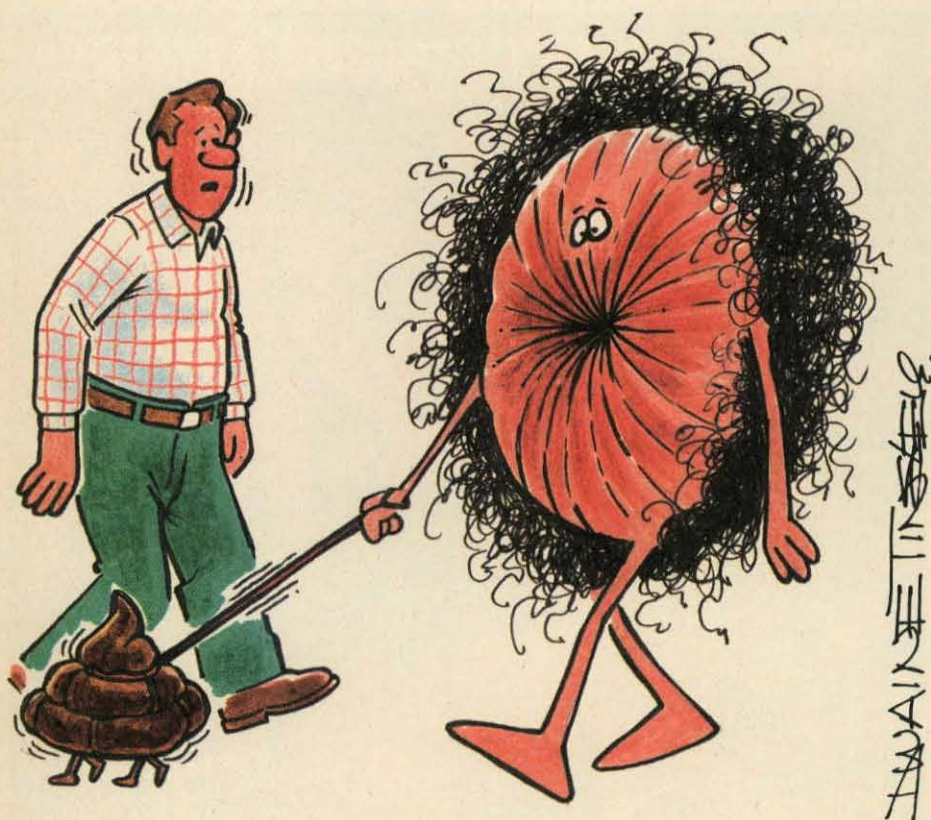

From what I heard through the air-conditioning vents, it was a great success.

•Swingers Are People Too: On the last day of the convention, I don't know how many of the swingers got up early and went to church, but I certainly didn't. Having slept through my chance to hear about "Space-Age Hypnosis," "Current Trends in Law Enforcement" and "Etiquette in Swinging," I decided to sit in on one last seminar before catching a taxi for the airport.

"Guaranteed Good Swinging Experiences Through Proper Screening Techniques" wasn't as spicy a topic as that of the seminar I had hit the day before, but it was certainly more representative of the heart of mainstream swinging.

Using common sense and years of experience, Ken and Pamela Billburg, an amiable couple in their mid-30s, discussed the various ins and outs: how to answer and take out an ad, how to handle the first meeting, the difference between on-premises and off-premises clubs, the advantages of belonging to a club, and much more. They stressed that, as a couple, swinging had brought them closer together for a happy relationship built on communication, honesty and tolerance. Sex is not the sole objective of their swinging. It's another part of the whole experience that includes friendship, sharing and a deeper understanding of what life is all about.

Like the rest of the conventiongoers, this plain couple defied the ugly stereotypes and false presumptions about swingers and verified that they are flesh and blood just like the rest of us. Swingers work and live right beside us; yet we are unaware of their "other" life. They are inconspicuous not so much because they are forced to, but because they choose to. By not drawing attention to their preferred way of living, swingers can carry on without worry of prejudice or discrimination. Swingers don't expect the ignorance and the intolerance to ever go away, but why let that spoil the party?

"Our computer has selected a girl that will be perfect for you, sir. Her name is Sara, and her phone number is..."

He was going to slit her throat, but she played along with him and allowed him to have oral sex.

Joe. He was always talking to Joe, but he was Joe. He hated blacks with a passion. He thought the sergeant was his daddy. He was awarded thousands of dollars because of what the drugs did to his mind.

In 1975 we had a guard by the name of Oshula, a good guard. He was a heavy advocate of affirmative action and rights for blacks and Hispanics. He'd get involved with inmate group activities. He sponsored group functions. He was a spokesman in the union.

The administration at that time was all white. There were guards working there who belonged to a family tree: The grandfather had worked at San Quentin; the father was still working at San Quentin; the son was working there. Oshula was a shit-stirrer.

He worked out in the laundry. There are no gun rails in there. These are mainline-caliber inmates, and they don't need gun coverage.

We had a maximum-security inmate, Hernandez, a psychotic killer. The counselors reclassified this man and moved him from the Adjustment Center. They assigned him a job in the laundry.

There are two guards in the laundry. One guard's supervising inmates, and the other is in and out delivering laundry. Anyway, Oshula's down there with these two inmates and this psychotic. Hernandez tied a 15-pound barbell weight in a pair of bluejeans and tied the legs together. He came up from behind, swung it like a slingshot and mangled Oshula's head. Oshula didn't even see the first hit.

I saw this guard when they carried him over to the hospital. The head was almost gone. It was just a stub there. He was so covered with blood, I couldn't tell if he was white, black or what. You don't put a psycho inmate in a working area.

Investigations of this sort of thing are done internally by the special-service unit, the SS. They're undercover agents who think of themselves as a departmental intelligence division. They're part of the administration, and they protect their own. If you fuck somebody in the administration, the SS breathes down your neck.

About 1977 we had this woman cook who wanted to be a woman cook supervisor. She wanted her own watch. The administration didn't want women there at all. They gave her the evening watch.

An inmate was in San Quentin for life, convicted of the rape and murder of a 13-year-old girl. After he killed her, he mutilated her sexual organs with a knife. This guy can't be around women because of his custody. He was waiting for this woman cook when she arrived at San Quentin Prison.

So she's in the kitchen with this rapist/murderer. This guy's got access to knives and everything else. There's a storage warehouse in the basement; so he says, "I need a box of Kool-Aid; let me down there." He goes down there with this woman, and he has a butcher knife to her throat, and he's going to rape her.

He hadn't had a woman in 17 years, since he'd had that 13-year-old. He can't get a hard-on. He was going to slit her throat, but she played along with him and allowed him to have oral sex. The guy was having a feast; she pretended she was having a feast too. After he finished, they went upstairs, and she said, "We'll have to do this every night."

The inmate went back to his cell. The guards took her to the watch commander and escorted the inmate to the Adjustment Center. The administration knew this guy was a rapist/murderer.

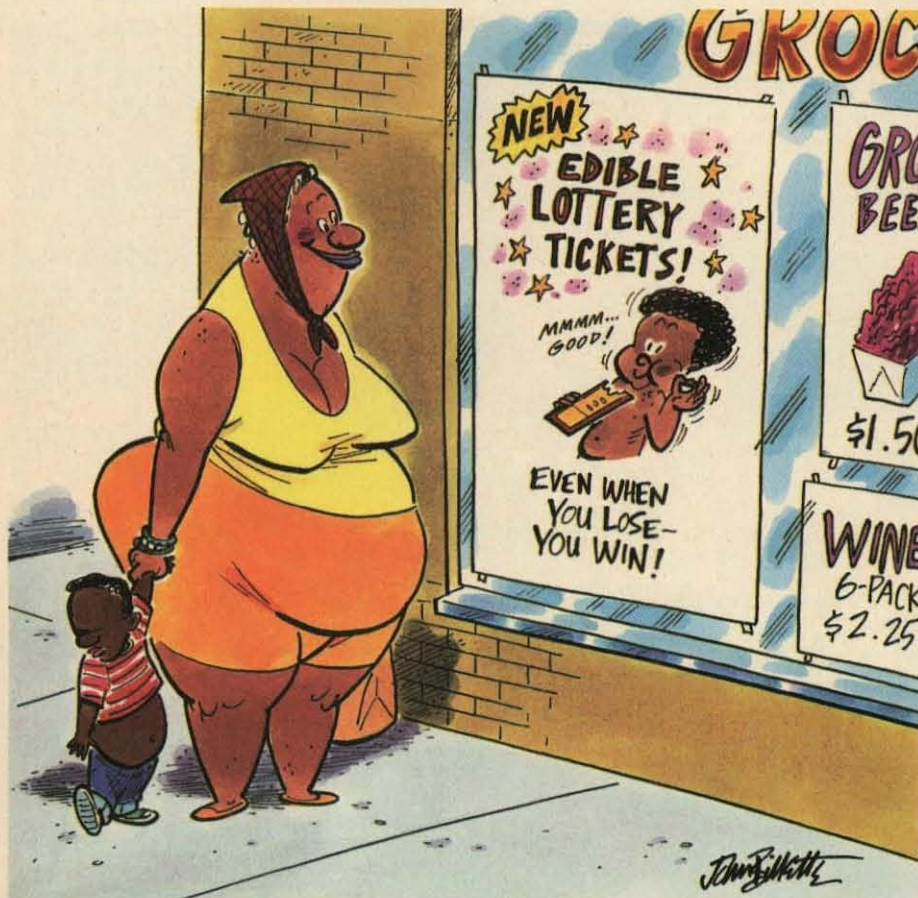

Prisoners aren't safe from this kind of tactic. If the SS suspects an inmate of having information, they say, "Look, you give us the information or we'll put a rat jacket on you." So this guy doesn't talk, and he goes out to his recreation area one day, and six guys come at him with knives. The inmates think this guy's given up the information, because the guards treat him special. He'll get extra servings of food, or other favoritism.

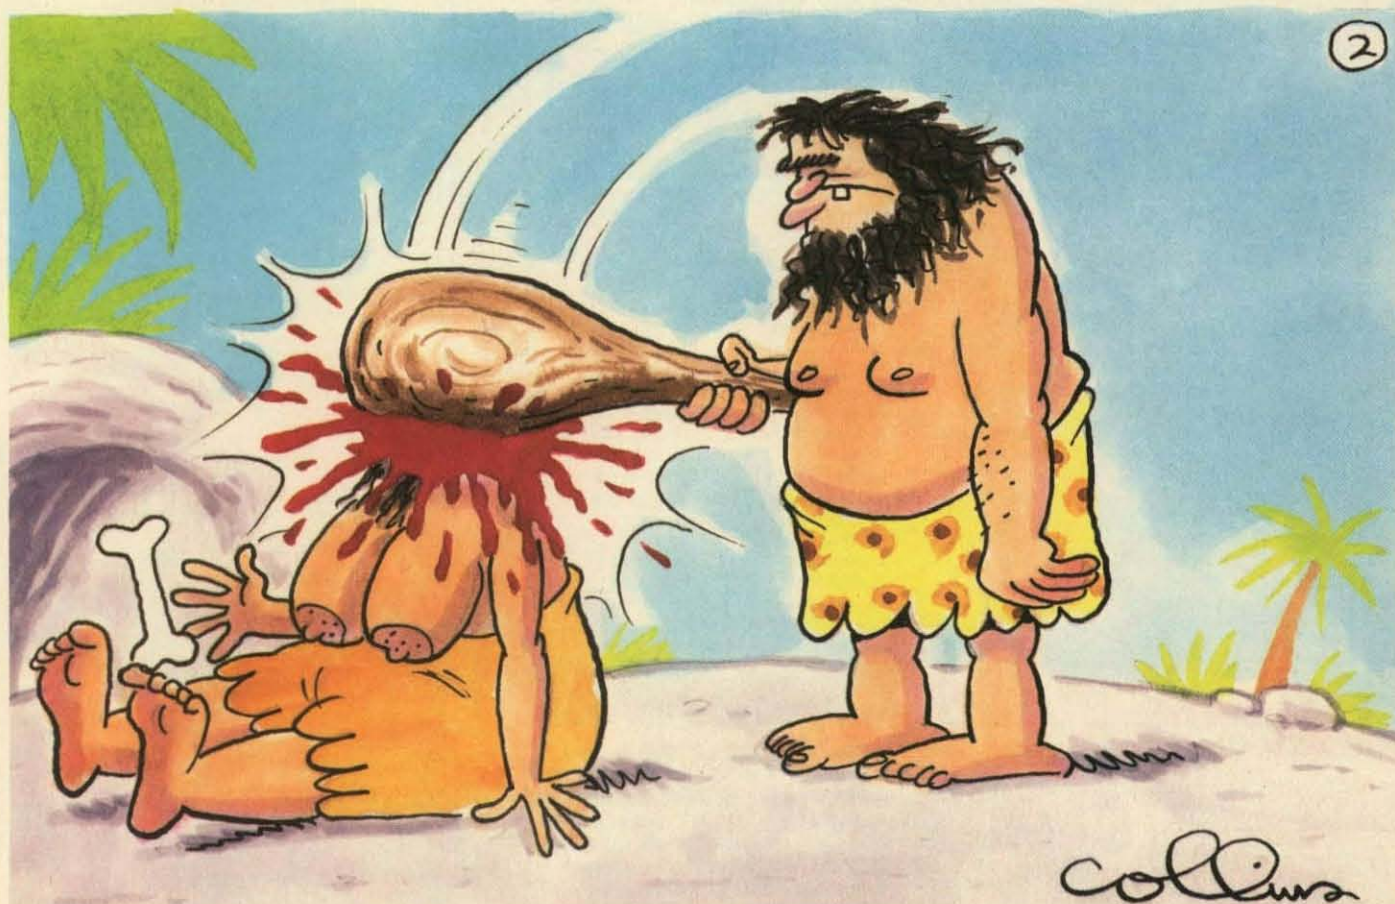

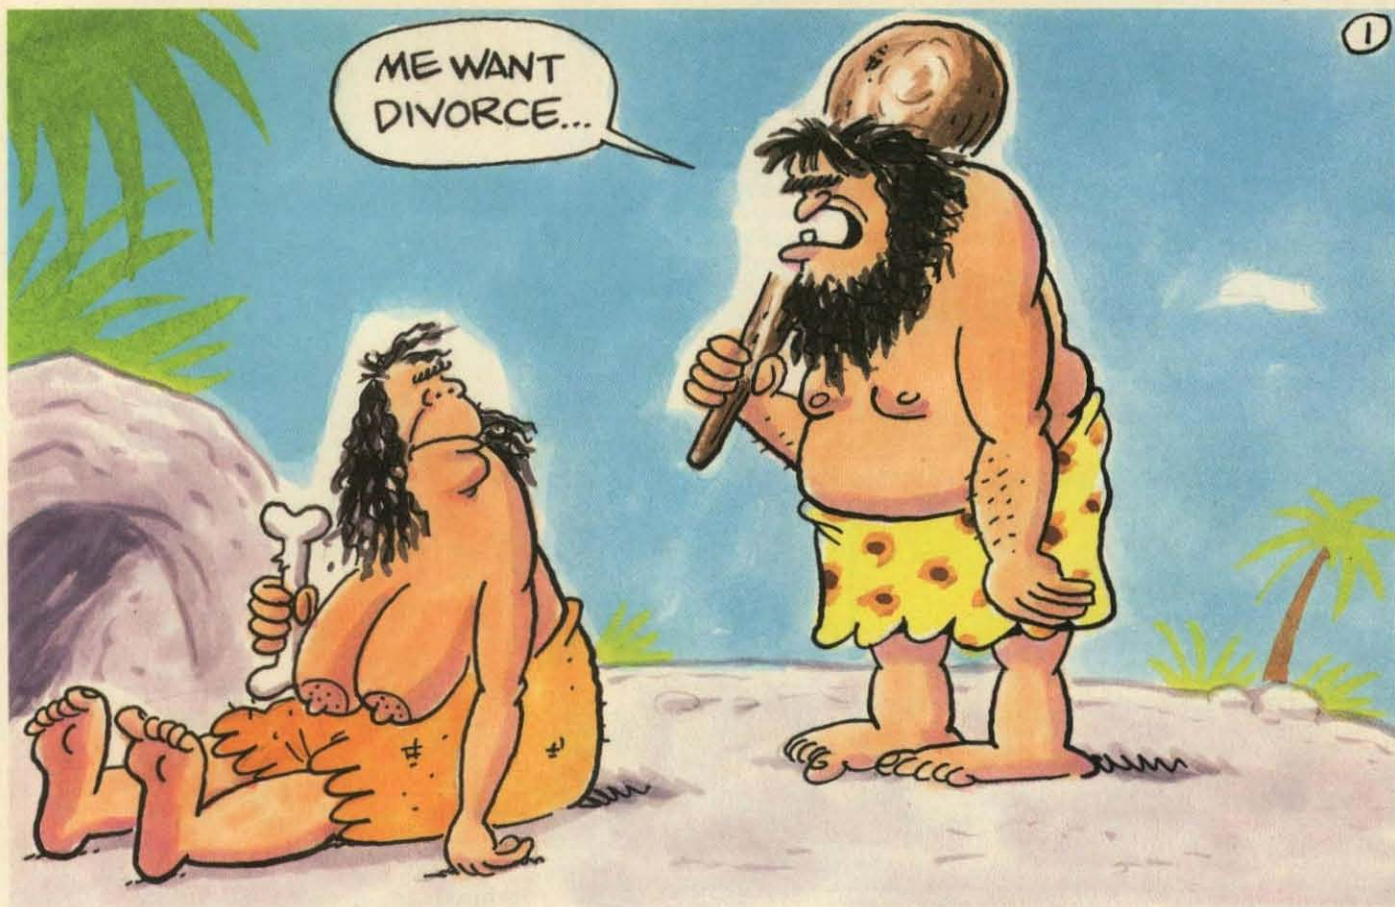

He goes running up to the fence. He's trying to get away from the guys with the knives. The guard on the gun rail, he's daydreaming, admiring the ships on San Pedro Bay. There's a ruckus, and suddenly the guard sees somebody going up the fence. And maybe the guard knows exactly what is happening. He fires a warning shot, and the next shot goes right through the guy's heart.

There's no way you can shoot somebody through the heart if you're aiming for the leg. Before an inmate goes over the top, we're supposed to shoot the guy in the leg. He's not going anywhere. He has to go through another fence, and then another fence.

There was a war between the Black Guerrilla Family and the Mexican Mafia. Program Administrator Martinez had a woman sergeant guard get a Mexican and a black spokesman go help solve this dispute. So she took Montgomery, the leader of the Black Guerrilla Family, to the tier where the Mexicans live. She was by herself with this black inmate.

The Mexican inmate wasn't the leader of the Mexican Mafia; he was their hitman. He comes out of the cell, and he's searched. By the time he's walked alongside the Mexican inmates on the tiers leading to the office, the Mexican inmate has a knife. The sergeant didn't see it.

So he's hacking away at this black inmate, and the woman sergeant panics. She tries to get the Mexican inmate off the black. She could have been killed. She's not a black belt; she's a woman. Black inmate Montgomery was brutally stabbed to death.

The SS security squad handling the case lost the weapon. The inmate involved was transferred back to Georgia. When he got to Georgia, they released him. The woman sergeant was transferred out. Meanwhile, Martinez and the warden's office advocate that the Mexican inmate was trying to protect himself.

After a year, the blacks know nothing is going to happen. They've been screwed. One night Sergeant Burchfield was walking the tier on his shift, and they speared him through the heart. He represented the administration. You set one of us up; we'll set one of you up.

Timothy Carl Hiemstra was a real shit-stirrer guard at San Quentin Prison. This guy worked the midnight shift on death row. He'd go in and pressure inmates, trying to get information as to where their drug stash or their money stash was. He'd make counts and slam gates every hour. He'd wake up all these inmates. He'd have to wear a raincoat because they'd literally throw pieces of feces at him. He didn't care; he was getting what he wanted when he was bothering these people.

Finally an inmate said, "Look, just get off my back; I'll tell you where there's a drug buy coming up." So he told Hiemstra where he could go in Oakland to get some drugs. He and another guard, Lance Cotton, went to this motel in Oakland. Their intention was to meet the drug dealer and take his drugs.

They went in there, and they got the drugs, and they literally beat the guy to a pulp. All of a sudden there was someone on the speaker outside. This guy they had just beat the shit out of was a drug agent. They opened up the door, and here were all these agents with guns. That was a prisoner setup. Both of them got prison sentences out of it.

There's a lot of drug abuse among guards. One warden decided he wanted information. He assigned a nurse to the substance-abuse program. Guards on dope went to this substance-abuse program and to this nurse.

Well, she was a registered nurse; she didn't have to take the Hippocratic oath. But the average guard doesn't know the difference between a psychologist and a nurse. She was passing all this information from these people on to the warden.

There're three categories of people in prison. There're the people who wear the green; that's the guards. There're the people who wear the blue; that's the inmates. Then there're the people who wear the suits; that's the administration. A guard is the lowlife of the prison hierarchy.

The administration is a closed clique. If you're in with them, it's referred to as being in the car. An administrator who's in the car can get a house up on the bank overlooking the bay, and his rent—that includes utilities and everything—is between $80 and $120 a month. Some inmates are skilled mechanics, bodyworkers, interior workers. The daughter of some hierarchy official had a beat-up '65 Ford Mustang totally restored at state expense. A guard who puts his life on the line every day can't get that done if he doesn't belong to the white-collar club.

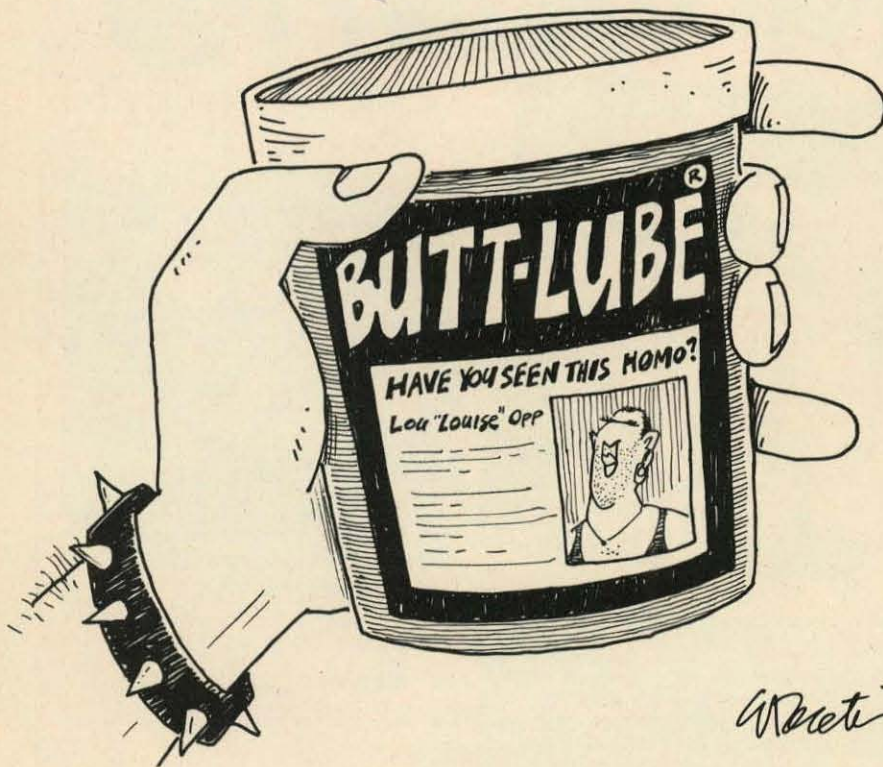

We had this guy, MacAme, who was the head of industries at San Quentin. He was also 50% owner in the salvage company that serviced the prison. The salvage company was paid something like $10 a month to come and get all the salvage. A lot of that salvage was good stuff.

A butcher at San Quentin was smuggling meat out from the kitchen and taking that meat to his shop, which was open between four and eight. Special hours, special deals. That went on for a year before they discovered this guy.

In January 1985 the San Quentin pharmacist returned unnecessarily stockpiled medication and gave the prison a refund that amounted to $30,000. The procurement officer, Robert Means, informed the pharmacist that he was a troublemaker and to quit interfering with the operations of his office.

Girls come into San Quentin wanting to be prison guards, and they have problems. One lady weighed less than 90 pounds. In order to secure her job, she had to meet preprobationary periods and pass performance reports. She couldn't function: She couldn't lift things; she was too frail. Guard sergeant Santos told this female officer that he would carry her, but he wanted a little ass on the side. The second probationary report was outstanding. She was in the car.

All the inmates came running out. They all had one cause: to kill, using fingernail clippers to slit throats.

One day guard sergeant Santos was walking around the wall posts, little shacks on top of the wall. He walked up to the wall post where this female guard was working. Well, she's in the car now; so the sergeant wanted to have sex with her right there. Meanwhile, another guard is up there with his binoculars, looking out for possible escapees. He looks over at Wall Post 5, and here's Santos having doggy intercourse with this woman guard.

He made a report, and Santos and his guard were called in to the office and questioned. He denied it. She denied it. There was an investigation, and the woman lost her job. The guard sergeant lost his stripes, but since Santos was what they call the warden's kid, or on the warden's leg, he got a hearing, and he got his stripes back.

A lot of the guards that work at San Quentin Prison are from the greater San Francisco area. They've known each other from high school. They've had their cliques from high school, and there's pressure to conform if you want to be in the car. If your clique drinks, that's your social life. If you're in a clique that uses cocaine, you're a coke user.

The job itself, because of stress, leads people into drug abuse and real heavy alcohol problems. It creates all kinds of problems. There's a heavy divorce rate. When you're around inmates all day, you talk like the inmates. A married man would go home to his family after work, but when he starts being in one of the cliques, they meet after work for social gatherings. There's a Zim's; it's like a Denny's, but they have a bar. That's where the guards go to drink. The white-collar workers go there too, to be affiliated with the guards who are in the car.

Up to a point the guards have the same kind of racial cliques as the inmates. San Quentin has a guard population of approximately 50% black. The rest are either white or Mexican. A lot of blacks come from the same townships the inmates come from. They've known each other as kids. Some of them actually have affiliation with these gangs. Those guards are the ones who usually end up bringing in guns, knives or drugs.

"That was my kind of movie! Boy meets girl; boy marries girl; girl takes boy for every fuckin' cent he's got!"

In 1971 a gun was smuggled in to George Jackson. Three guards lost their lives, two innocent inmates were killed, and George Jackson's head was blown off.

Jackson was in a holding cage after being escorted back from the visiting room. The guard sergeant says, "George, there's something different about your hair." That's when Jackson took off the wig. He had a .38 revolver hidden under there, and he shot a hole right through the sergeant's head. By the time two other guards got there, Jackson had the keys and was out of the holding cage. He threatened to kill these guards unless they unlocked the cell doors.

All the inmates came running out—blacks, whites, Mexicans—and they all had one cause: That was to kill. They had two guards and two mainline prisoners in there to serve their food. They very slowly executed these people, using a fingernail clippers to slit their throats.

Jackson ran out of the Adjustment Center, and a guard on the gun rail shot him in the ankle. The bullet ricocheted up through his body and out his head. There was another gun involved, but the SS never found it.

The Department of Corrections' version of the story is that lawyer Stephen Bingham had his .38 revolver in his tape recorder, and that he brought it in through all the security, through the guards and into the visiting room, where he passed the gun to George Jackson. They claimed he also brought the wig for Jackson.

There's another version of the story. A guard started working here about a month before all this happened. He was from a low-rent district where a lot of the blacks come from, and he had Black Panther affiliations. The other theory is that this guy brought in both guns. One gun this guard smuggled out, and the other gun was retrieved when Jackson was shot. That lawyer didn't bring in any guns. You can't hide a gun in a tape recorder... unless the guards didn't do their searching.

We had inmate Gregory Powell, the one who killed a policeman in the Onion Field. Powell had this woman; I guess he'd married in prison. She had this 13-year-old girl. In the visiting room they can actually smooch. It's like a passion pit in there. They sit at a table; there're four chairs in there. Three guards walk around all the time, breaking up the little love affairs.

This Powell would get a hard-on, unzip his pants and turn in toward the table. The little girl would come over, and he would act like she was sitting on his lap. Actually, he was having sexual intercourse with this 13-year-old girl. An inmate turned him in to the sergeant. It was disgusting to the inmate.

We have what we call family visiting at (continued on page 108)

I knew of one inmate who actually conditioned his body to a degree where he could give himself oral sex.

San Quentin Prison. Inmates are allowed to have their wives or family come for 24- to 48-hour visits. This one particular family, his mother came. A real good-looking, brick-shithouse woman. She looked like a girl, except about 45 years old. She went into the visiting quarters to visit her son. It's like a house trailer. The inmates have to come out for a count every so often, but this inmate got carried away. When an inmate doesn't come out, a guard has to go in to see what the problem is. The inmate was in the sack with his mother. The mother was restricted from visiting him for six months. She sent him nude photographs to keep him going.

One guard at San Quentin was injured on the job. He left on a medical. His wife came to work at the prison and fell in love with an inmate. She divorced her husband and married the inmate. They were having sex. A woman guard can get away with having sex. We've had nurses at San Quentin put out to inmates while the guard was off eating his lunch.

Getting into homosexual sex, inmates have what they call tumblers, a glass that holds about 16 ounces of liquid. One inmate cut out the bottom portion of the glass so there were two hollow ends. The inmate would stand up to his bars, put the glass out between the bars and squeeze it. He would have the head of his cock sticking out of the glass just enough so the guard could suck it. That's how the guard got his kicks. Of course, when a guard like that is discovered, he's fired.

Most of the prisoners at San Quentin are in lock-down units; so there's no way they can have sex except by themselves. I knew of one inmate at San Quentin Prison who actually conditioned his body to a degree where he could give himself oral sex. There are about 500 prisoners who are double-celled; they could be having sex if they were both homosexual, but a lot of them aren't. You hear about that at other institutions, but not at San Quentin, because of the guns, the scrutiny.

Inmates make their own wine (pruno), from berries and yeast they smuggle out of the kitchen. If we find it, we take the pruno and dump it in the toilet, then write the guy a disciplinary. One sergeant in particular would urinate into the bag of pruno, a good, sizable amount of urine. A guard sergeant known as "Bulldog" says, "This pruno needs flavor, and I'm adding flavor to it."

Another guard, Hanson, weighed more than 350 pounds, a large slob, a real slob personality. He always screamed at the inmates. This guy had a bypass, a serious operation. He came back to San Quentin at about 180 pounds, but his personality was still the same slob.

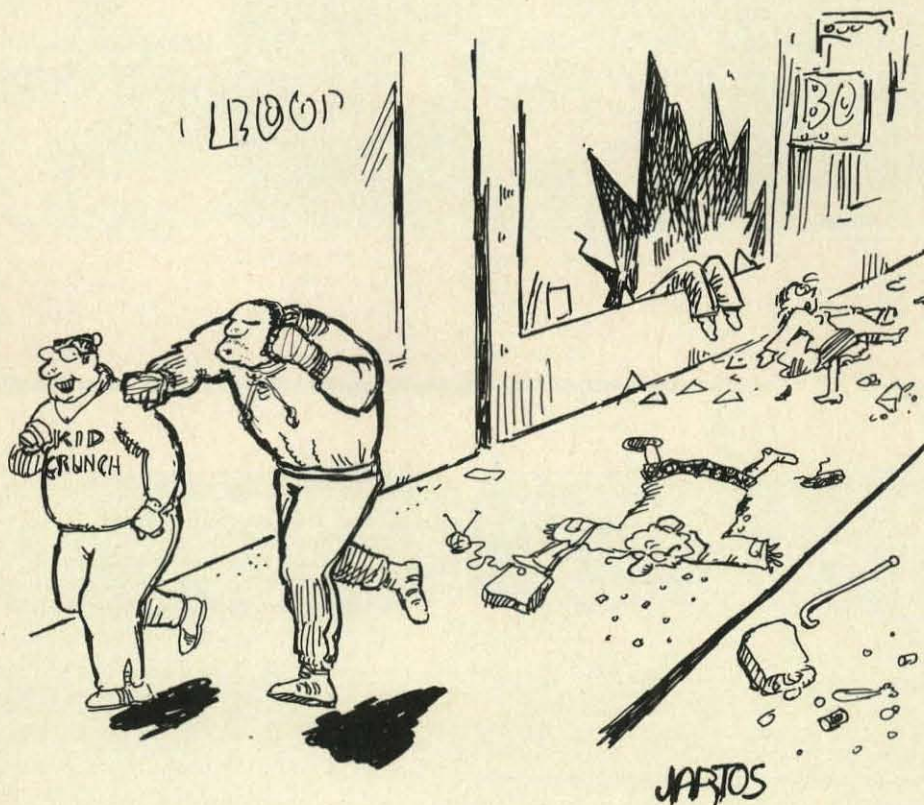

He was assigned to the ranch, a dormitory-type setting. An inmate came to his dorm and spotted his friend lying on the bed, with parts of his internal organs lying on the bed sheets. He ran out. He ran right into another inmate just like that. Some no-good son of a bitch had put turpentine in their batch of pruno. Of the 11 inmates who drank the stuff, seven recovered, one went totally blind, and two died. One died within a week; the other was in a coma for two weeks, and he died.

The prison said that one of the inmates who died, the little old winemaker who'd been making wine ever since he'd been incarcerated, had screwed up. These guys at the ranch, they're the best; they don't use turpentine. But that's the spirit of prison law, and that's what the press printed. The SS came in and investigated this, and all of a sudden Hanson was gone. He just resigned. Nobody knows where.

There's no telling what can happen when some guy has a hard-on for you. But who's going to listen to a prisoner? Who's going to stand up for them? We're the police, and we're told to lie and cover up. No one's going to believe our inmates. People will say of the inmates, "You're nothing but a bunch of liars and thieves, and sure, you all claim to be innocent."

I don't know what a progressive penal system is. The conditions on the outside for these people don't change. None of it works. I mean, you can't tell the truth in your own system.

Former guard William Yount was the highest paid guard in California, piling up overtime hours to pull down a salary greater than the state's governor. Of the 43 million overtime dollars spent in one year by the California Department of Corrections, $9 million was just in San Quentin. The California Department of Corrections represents about 7% of the state employees. About 65% of all California State Personnel Board hearings are for California Department of Corrections employees. William Yount is currently in the courts, seeking damages for being squeezed out of his job. It will cost Yount over $5,000 to have his case heard in court. Yount created the Freedom Foundation, P.O. Box 1236, Folsom, California 95630, for anyone wishing to donate to his defense.

NEXT MONTH IN

HUSTLER

March edition on sale January 24, 1989

TWAT'S HAPPENING IN THE MARCH HUSTLER

Only real men who want contorted, spurting hard-ons need to check out next month's mag. But if you're game for orgasmic slow burns, you'll get a built blond centerfold who swings her heavy mams and spreads her luscious gams, two tight-bodied brunettes who take time out for a little muff-munching action, a horny honeymoon hump in a convertible in broad daylight; and a clit-slippery coquette mooning and swooning in her own private sandbox. So if you don't mind a constantly frothy crotch, take a chance on the March HUSTLER.

HUSTLER GETS HARD

Now you can see HUSTLER-style schtupping come to life with the new hard-core HUSTLER HARD video series. Get a sizzling behind-the-scenes look at the taping of the premiere feature, starring Erica Boyer in her orgasmic return to XXX action. Don't miss this exclusive!

UNNECESSARY ROUGHNESS

Taxpayers know that the IRS can be unusually aggressive when collecting their loot, but many people don't know about the "IRS Goon Squads," special tax-collecting forces ready to intimidate citizens who challenge the system. Find out from Jay Freemont how these Revenue roughnecks harass any who dare to threaten the U.S. power elite.

XXX MARKS THE G SPOT

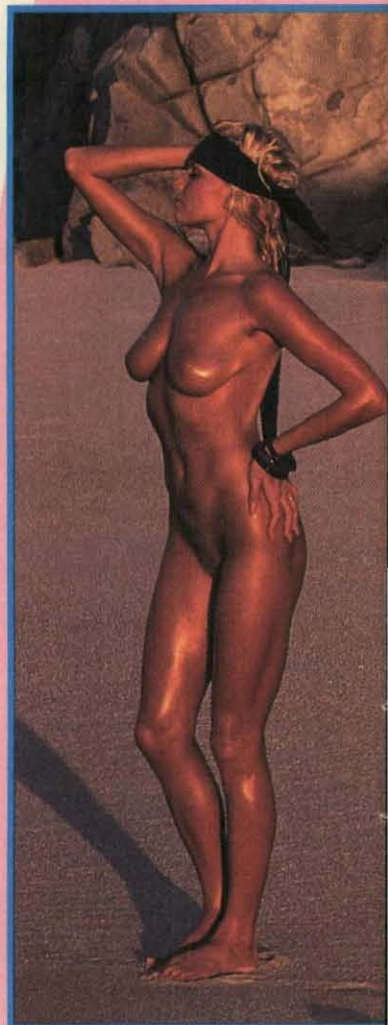

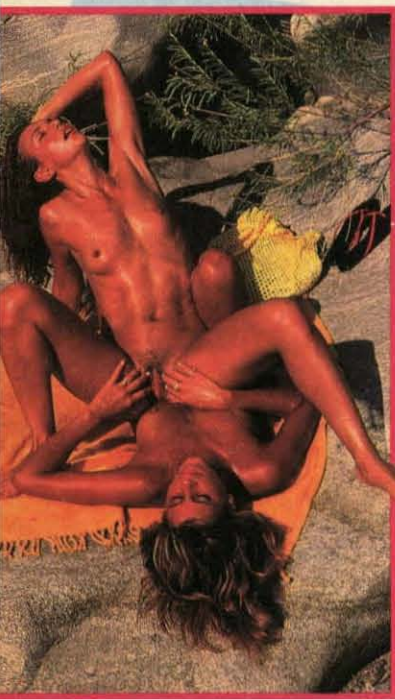

How many times have you popped in your favorite sexy video only to have your date puke on the couch? Avoid these unsettling moments and read psychologist Anne Bianchi's "Women & Erotica," as she tells you how much porn it takes to keep those juices flowing.

AIDSWATCH: IMPORTANT NEW ADVANCES

Next month we'll feature a special double AIDSWatch column. First, Tyler Martin reports on a new AIDS test developed by the City of Hope that is purported to be not only quicker, but more reliable. Then Larry Wichman details new progress in AIDS vaccines, highlighted by a physician who has successfully tested an AIDS vaccine on himself. Read it, only in the March HUSTLER.

MORE REASONS TO READ HUSTLER!

Horndogs of all sizes should check out next month's Sex Play, "Body Types and Sexual Images" by Robert McGarvey, who tells you what shape—fat, skinny or muscular—fits what carnal behavior. Then it's time to stroke yourself raw with the libidinous Hot Letters, study the ream ratings of HUSTLER Erotic Entertainment, enjoy the nutjob nuances of Bits & Pieces and fling your flare at the wild critters in Beaver Hunt. Buy the March HUSTLER, or you'll never forgive yourself!
